

STANDARD OIL TO OBEY

BRIDE AND HUSBAND MISSING

Mother of 18-Year-Old Mrs. Prouty Seeks Her Pretty Daughter in Vain

Marital Trouble Breaks Up Home and Groom Also Drops Out of Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—The disappearance of a pretty 18-year-old bride and her husband, who have gone separate ways, has led to a sorrowing mother's appeal to the police to locate her daughter, from whom she has not heard for several months, and for whose safety she greatly fears.

The young woman, Mrs. Margaret Prouty, left the home of her husband's parents in Stockton three weeks ago and diligent inquiry has failed to give any clue as to her whereabouts. Her mother, Mrs. B. B. Gale, is at the Argos hotel in this city searching for the daughter.

Last August Mrs. Gale, who at that time lived with her parents in Denver, fell in love with Frank Prouty, son of a wealthy rancher of Stockton, and he promised to give her as good a home as that to which she was accustomed. They were married and there was a honeymoon in California.

SENDS LETTERS HOME.

Bright letters came to the parents in Denver, and when the Gales moved to Sacramento the daughter came to visit her mother but said nothing of any unhappiness in her life. Then the letters ceased to come. Mrs. Gale wrote and wrote, but there was no answer, and last month she journeyed to Stockton to find out what was the matter.

She went to the Prouty home where the couple had lived and learned that nothing was known of the whereabouts of her daughter, or the young woman's husband.

"Mrs. Prouty told me," declared Mrs. Gale this morning, "that she did not know where Margaret was, but that the couple did not get along well together. She said she did not know where her son was, that he had left home first and then Margaret had also disappeared."

SEARCH HOSPITALS.

"I learned that she had been studying to be a nurse at St. Joseph hospital and the sisters spoke most highly of her. Then a young man came and took my daughter and another girl out in an automobile. Of course the sisters wouldn't stand for that, and Margaret left. Where she is I do not know, but I learned that at the time of her disappearance she was accompanied by a Miss Dennis, whose father traced a trunk to San Francisco. I think she may be studying to be a nurse in some hospital, but I do not want to see her. She was such a good girl and always so happy and content."

Doherty Is Unable To Knock Out Furey

Has the Better of 15-Round Go, But Can't Finish Opponent.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 16.—Jeff Doherty of Boston easily had the better of a fifteen-round bout with Tommy Furey of Attleboro last night. In the last three rounds the Boston boxer tried hard to finish his opponent, but Furey always came back strong.

Charges Against Fanning Before the Police Board

VOTE LIGHT ON CITY BONDS

Annexed District Expected to Turn Out Safe Majority for Issue

Campaign Committees Hard at Work to Insure Success of Project

There is a comparatively light vote being polled in the school and auditorium bond election today. An earnest fight is being made by the merchants and manufacturers of this city in favor of all the measures and the work of those conducting it is bearing fruit.

There is no doubt that this is one of the best campaigns which has been organized in this city for the civic advancement of Oakland. In every precinct there are workers for the bonds, under the direction of the progress and prosperity committee of the Oakland chamber of commerce, while, on the other hand, there is no appearance of any organized opposition to the several propositions.

To carry the issue, however, requires a vote of two-thirds in the affirmative and this has been taken into consideration by the managers of the campaign. With this purpose in view, the committee has made arrangements to place vehicles of all kinds at work in the evening for the purpose of bringing to the polls operatives in stores and industries in various parts of the city that they may vote before the time for the closing of the polls.

COMMITTEE BUSY.

The headquarters of the bond campaign committee of the Progress and Prosperity body presented a busy scene during the morning and early afternoon today. Under the direction of Fred Reed, at the Chamber of Commerce, the committee is busy with the polls operatives in stores and industries in various parts of the city that they may vote before the time for the closing of the polls.

The number of students who volunteered to work among the voters surpassed all the expectations of the campaign committee and many of the older ones were in charge of automobiles which were quickly placed in the parts of town where they were most needed. The stenographers from the different business colleges worked hard until noon getting out the last of the campaign literature which is being used to distribute among the citizens.

Americans 'Corner' Coronation Ermine

Price Doubles on Skins, Due to Far Sightedness of St. Louis Fur Dealers.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—Scarcity of ermine on the European markets furnishes a valuable tip to local fur dealers who have been quietly buying up the catch of the Alaskan and Canadian trappers for a year, until now they claim to hold the key to the coronation of King George V.

The furs are preparing to ship to London 100,000 of these white skins, which will net them between $175,000 and $200,000. The wholesale price on the skins has jumped from $1 each to nearly double that figure in a few months.

at the mayor's office. The charge is based on Fanning's indictment by the grand jury for offering to receive a bribe from a woman of the underworld, and is the direct outcome of that of unethical conduct and is made by Captain of Detectives Wall, in whose department Fanning was detailed, even though he was on duty

DR. WILSON ON PUBLIC CONTROL

People Have Legal Right to Rule Corporations, Says Educator

Distinguished Easterner Speaks Before Large Audience in Greek Theater

BERKELEY, May 16.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey delivered the annual address of the Phi Beta Kappa at the University of California this afternoon. He spoke in the Greek theater before a large audience, his subject being "Corporations and Their Control." He said in part:

"We are no longer afraid of our corporations as we used to be, because we are beginning to understand just what they are, and, to some extent, at any rate, just how they can be controlled and made to serve the purposes of our life without governing and controlling us. There was a time when our feeling about them was almost one of panic. We had undoubtedly ourselves created them. There was no dispute as to the fact that they were our creatures, made by laws which we ourselves had enacted, and had supposed we understood; but we stood amazed at the work of our own hands, and not only amazed, but awed and frightened. It is not a little amusing, as we look back upon our one-time state of mind in this matter; because, having created the corporations, we can certainly alter them if we please, and control them in any way that we choose. They are not actual persons. We made them—God did not; and we can alter the work of our own hands as we will."

"The trouble with the corporation is that it is an invention. It is not a moral unit, as a person is. It is not anybody in particular—therefore the ancient complaint that a corporation has no body to be kicked or soul to be damned."

JOINT STOCK COMPANIES.

"Most corporations are joint stock companies. Now a joint stock company gets its money by throwing out a drag-net for the savings or earnings of individuals in all parts of the country. It offers its stock for sale. It does not care who buys the stock. What it wishes is to sell it and get what it fetches and put the proceeds of many sales in a common fund, which is to be its capital and means of doing business. Its stockholders live here, there, and everywhere. Its funds are managed by a central body, a board of directors and a group of officers who are supposed to be representatives of the stockholders, but who very often seem to have no consciousness at all that they are representatives. You will find them speaking of the interests of the corporation as if they were private interests—very often as if they were their own special private interests, into which the public has no more right to look than it has to look into their dealings or their safe deposit vaults, or into any part of their private affairs."

GIVEN GREAT ADVANTAGE.

"The first thing that it is necessary to do in order to approach the corporation without awe and without doubt that it can be controlled, is to realize that it is doing business upon a basis and in a way which cannot properly be described as private at all. It is doing business for that part of the people that has submitted to its stock. It is one of the many instrumentalities by which we act together, not separately, as in the old days when men undertook business on their own private capital or in combination with only a trusted partner or two. We must realize, therefore, that it is no intrusion on the part of the public who, by subscription, are supporting these things, to look into the affairs of corporations when they please, and to treat them as in some very important sense

Captain of Steamer Discredits the Report

CURLING, N. F., May 16.—Reports that five thousand persons are starving on the Labrador coast are discredited by Captain Kean, of the steamer Home, which plies between Curling and Battle Harbor.

"I don't believe the report of unusual suffering," said Captain Kean. "In the first place, the inhabitants of Labrador are about 10,000 and in the region where dire destitution is reported, there are less than 800 residents. Of course there is always some want along that coast and we were carrying relief there off and on all last winter."

The Home will sail again Wednesday with supplies for the Labrador coast.

UNVEIL VICTORIA STATUE ROYALTY AT CEREMONIES

National Memorial to Queen Victoria, which was unveiled in London today in front of Buckingham Palace. Emperor William attended the unveiling, accompanied by the Empress Auguste Victoria. King George V delivered a speech in eulogy of Queen Victoria.

Royalty and Peerage Hear King George Deliver Speech in Eulogy

LONDON, May 16.—The marble memorial, fronted by a statue of the late queen and surmounted by a gilded winged Victory, on the plaza before Buckingham palace, was unveiled today by Victoria's grandson, King George V.

The ceremony was conducted at noon in the presence of Emperor William and other descendants of the queen, numerous members of the British and German royal families, including Empress Auguste Victoria and Princess Louise, members of the cabinet, colonial representatives and many other prominent persons.

The weather was perfect and St. James Park was crowded.

The archbishop of London conducted the religious rites with music by massed choirs from several cathedrals and chapels, conducted by Sir Walter Parratt, who was private organist to the late queen.

King George delivered a speech in eulogy to Victoria, describing the monument as "the tribute of races and legions more varied in character and circumstances than have ever been combined before on a common purpose."

PLEASED WITH VISIT.

His majesty referred feelingly to the pleasure afforded by the visit of the German royal family, saying: "It is a source of deep satisfaction to me and my family that my dear cousin, the German emperor, accompanied by the empress, is present at this historic ceremony. Strong and loving ties of kinship and friendship unite our thrones and persons."

As a spectacle the unveiling was brilliant. King George and Emperor William wore the uniform of British field marshals. The prince of Wales wore the uniform of a naval cadet and the younger princess were in white naval suits.

Outside the circle of royalty were the heads of the embassies and their wives.

Two Workmen Injured When Wall Falls on Them

Horace Hatfield, a carpenter, residing at 416 Eighth street, and Edward Miller, a colored laborer, living at 223 Union street, had a narrow escape from death about 1:30 this afternoon when a wall of plaster and heavy studdings fell upon them at the corner of Eleventh and Broadway.

Hatfield sustained a fractured hip, several broken ribs and possible internal injuries. He was the more seriously injured of the two. Miller's wounds being slight.

The men were working on the demolition of the building formerly occupied by a saloon and now being removed to give place to the Security Bank building. They were standing close in to the wall that butts against the Western Union's office adjoining when the wall suddenly tumbled over and buried them beneath it. The fact that they were very close in to the wall probably saved them from being crushed to death.

The police ambulance was called immediately after the accident and the injured men were taken to the receiving hospital where they were treated by Dr. Rice.

While the condition of Hatfield is very serious, it is believed by the doctors that he will recover.

WILL MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO EVADE DECISION

Plans for the Future Conduct of Corporation's Subsidiary Companies Will Not Be Announced Until Later Time

Supreme Court's Ruling Has but Little Ill Effect on the Stock Boards of the United States Nor Upon the Exchanges of Great European Cities

SENATORS DIVIDED IN OPINION OF CASE

NEW YORK, May 16.—The first word came from the Standard Oil Company today on the decision against it yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States. It makes two points clear:

First, that there will be no contumacy by the company; it purposes to obey the decree.

Second, that it will be some time before any plans or reorganization will be given out.

The company has insisted throughout that no plans had been formulated in advance of the decree, and the statement made today by Mortimer F. Elliott, general solicitor for the company, takes the same attitude. He said:

"Having only before us the press reports of Chief Justice White's oral opinion and the remarks of Justice Harlan, and not having yet seen the opinion of the court in full, it is impossible to make any lengthy statement."

"It may, however, be said now that the Standard Oil Company will obey the decree of the court, and that all the companies embraced in the court's decree will carry on their business as usual under the direction of their own offices and through their own corporate organizations."

WALL STREET IS REASSURED

NEW YORK, May 16.—Wall street had its ears to the European cables this morning waiting for news of the opening markets across the Atlantic, which would test the effect of yesterday's decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, declaring the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey an illegal monopoly.

The first news was reassuring, although apparently not unexpected. The fact that the London stock market opened but half a point to a point below yesterday's New York closing and quickly strengthened on New York buying orders, indicated that the decision had been anticipated, and showed the quality of the overnight verdict on the court's decision.

PREDICT DIVISION OF COMPANY

Opinion seems about equally divided as to how the Standard Oil would meet the wishes of the court. In the absence of any official statement two plans were heard of. One was the division of the present organization into several separate companies, each operating in its own territory.

Another suggested the disintegration of the subsidiaries of the parent company and the formation of a new corporation which might acquire all the physical property of these subsidiaries and issue new stock. An argument advanced in support of this idea was that such a reorganization would be a single company and not a "combination."

LONDON INTEREST AT LOW EBB

LONDON, May 16.—The supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case created surprisingly little interest or flurry in financial circles here as the result had been generally anticipated. Dealings in stocks for some time past have been on the bear side and in the hands of continental and Wall street houses. Brokers, therefore, did not remain in the financial district over night as in times of crises.

Many brokers, however, came to the city earlier than usual and trading in American securities began an hour and a half before the stock exchange opened. Initial prices were from a half to a point below parity, but buying orders from New York soon strengthened values and with local traders covering, the market at 11 o'clock ruled firm and fairly active and from one to two points above the lowest yesterday, as follows:

Atchafon, 114 1-4; Canadian Pacific, 241 3-4; Erie, 33 1-2; Southern Pacific, 118 3-8; Union Pacific, 183 3-4; United States Steel, 78.

In the afternoon the market became excited on the receipt of the strong opening in New York. These advices were accompanied by good buying orders and the prices of the leading American shares jumped a point, with the tone strong.

The general opinion of the afternoon papers is that the decision

FOOTPADS FLEE AS WOMAN SCREAMS

Victim of Holdup Runs and Supposed Highwayman Is Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—J. F. Dougherty, purchasing agent for the Palace Hotel Company, was held last night at Sacramento and Taylor streets by three armed men. Instead of throwing up his hands he ran, and at the same time a woman across the street screamed. The footpads fled in the opposite direction.

Detectives McLaughlin and Sullivan went to the scene, but could find no evidence of the men and were returning when they observed three men standing at Grant and Bush streets who appeared suspicious. They searched two of the men and allowed them to go. While searching the third, Sullivan touched a revolver, and the man broke away and ran. He gave the officers a long chase. He gave his name as Joe Hada and spoke very little English. He protested his innocence. Dougherty identified him as one of the men. He said he worked for the American Can Company and gave the name of one of his companions as Pedro Martin.

DR. WILSON TALKS ON CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS

Governor Declares That We No Longer Fear Creatures of Our Own Creation.

SPEAKS BEFORE LARGE CROWD AT UNIVERSITY

The Public Service Companies Should Bend to Will of the People, He Says.

public, not private instrumentalities. By permitting them to use the aggregate capital of communities instead of individual private capital, the law is vesting in them a great power, an artificial advantage which is of the greatest moment; and this advantage is given to them on the basis of public policy. It is not based upon inherent right. When they become hurtful they can and should be restrained or abolished. The individual cannot compete with them. He must, therefore, be protected against them.

PUBLIC CONTROL.

"Public service corporations are public instrumentalities, and that in a less degree, but no less truly, all corporations are public instrumentalities. They facilitate the general participation of communities in economic undertakings. They are, therefore, manifestly legitimate subjects of control. We need not be afraid of violating any principle of justice in controlling them. Of course we may control them wisely or unwisely, as our means and methods of control are well or ill considered.

This is what we call the corporation problem; and there are certain principles which we could lay down with a good deal of confidence with regard to the methods of controlling these instrumentalities. In the first place, we must have the best tonic for them is publicity. Since what they do is of common concern, it should be of common knowledge. Since what they are is the basis of public credit for them, it should be fully disclosed at every turn of the business.

"Moreover, it should be recognized as a fundamental principle of our law in dealing with them, that though we call them artificial persons, the only persons we are really going to deal with in imposing the penalties of the law upon them are the persons who constitute their directors and officers. There is no mystery about them; these are the persons whom as a matter of fact consider. We ought by this time to have seen the futility—I might even say the silliness—of trying to punish illegal action by penalizing corporations as such. Fines punish the stockholder, forfeitures of charter and of the franchises which they are exercising paralyze industry and confuse business. Men do not cease to be individuals by becoming the officers of corporations; and, as their officers, they control and use them, and are masters of them. They exercise their individual will when they determine what the policy of a corporation shall be. The responsibility for violating the law, or for neglecting public interests, ought to fall upon them as individuals.

INDIVIDUALS RESPONSIBLE.

"Every corporation ought to be obliged to disclose to the proper officers of the law its organization, with such explicitness that it will be possible to determine from its own sworn analysis to which particular officer or board or committee each act of the corporation is traceable; and the law should impose its penalties upon the members of that board or of that committee or upon that officer. They should be punished individually, as other violators of the law are punished.

"I think that the spirit of the age is slowly changing with regard to all these important matters. The time of content and vituperation and mutual abuse and misunderstanding is passing away. It is beginning to be recognized that these who are leading the reform movement of the age are leading it in an sincerity and genuine public spirit. Men are of business are waking, to look about them upon the real facts and to make statements of themselves; and public men are going half way to meet them in this new temper and purpose of theirs. We shall yet see a day of happy accommodation and of established justice."

is "a theatrical but probably fruitless victory for the opponents of the money power."

The market continued excited in the late trading and after a series of sharp fluctuations closed firm and from one-half to three points higher than the final of the previous day.

"GOOD" AND "BAD" TRUSTS

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The government's policy in dealing with "trusts" and combinations of capital as it must be shaped in the light of the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case was discussed today by President Taft and his Cabinet.

There was a great rush at the clerk's office of the supreme court for copies of the opinion, and there were not enough copies to go around. Although the full opinion of the court totaled more than 20,000 words, Chief Justice White, to the surprise of all, announced at half of it without apparently glancing at the notes which lay before him.

Evidently the chief justice had the opinion so well arranged in his mind that he spoke it without help. The court in declaring that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary companies were a conspiracy and combination in "unreasonable" restraint of trade, did not condemn all great interstate corporations and did not hold that "every" restraint of trade was a violation of law. In other words, the court seems to have upheld the doctrine that there are "good" and "bad" trusts, and that the Standard Oil was a "bad" trust.

HARLAN'S DISSENTION DISCUSSED

There was much discussion here today of Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion. He declared that there ought to be no recognition of the differences between "reasonable restraint" and "unreasonable restraint" by the supreme court, but that Congress ought to do it if it were to be done.

"But the fact remains," declared Justice Harlan, "that until this day Congress has suffered with the law as written in this respect, and today the law stands that every contract in restraint of trade is illegal."

As one of the direct results of the decision it is said that the federal incorporation act, prepared by Attorney General Wickersham at the direction of President Taft, may be brought up to meet the situation created by the court's action and pressed for passage in Congress.

Berlin's Financial Circles Approve the Decision Rendered

BERLIN, May 16.—Trading was quiet and prices rather firm on the bourse today. The Standard Oil decision was regarded as lenient and was approved in financial circles.

Divergent Views Taken by Men Who Make Nation's Laws

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Divergent views were expressed today by members of Congress on the Supreme Court's interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law in the Standard Oil case.

"A wonderfully wise decision, which will be of great good to the business interests of the country," was the way Senator Clark of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, characterized the decision.

Representative Mann, minority leader of the House and chairman of the committee on Interstate and foreign commerce, was equally hearty in his endorsement.

Representative Adamson, chairman of the House committee on Interstate and foreign commerce, whose views reflect those of other Democrats, said that the committee on Interstate and foreign commerce, was equally hearty in his endorsement.

"The Supreme Court was without constitutional power to write the 'unreasonable' into the Sherman anti-trust law. The trusts of the country sought vainly to amend the law by inserting that word. Now the Supreme Court does the very thing Congress expressly refused to do."

Several Democrats were said to be ready to offer amendments nullifying the court's interpretation of the law, but there is little prospect, say the leaders, of any action being taken at this time.

President Opposed to Incorporation of "Reasonable"

WASHINGTON, May 16.—While President Taft made no statement today regarding the Supreme Court's decision in the Standard Oil case, in which the court set up the doctrine that there might be "reasonable" and "unreasonable" restraints of trade, official Washington records of extracts from the special message sent to Congress by the President January 7, 1910, urging the enactment of a federal incorporation law.

In that message President Taft discussed the suggestion that the word "reasonable" be made part of the Sherman anti-trust law and strongly opposed the proposition.

New York Stock Market Opens Strong on Morning Boards

NEW YORK, May 16.—The stock market opened strong today, fulfilling the promises of the earlier transactions on the stock exchange. On the curb a sale of 100 shares of Standard was reported at 67½, a decline of 4½ points from yesterday's closing price. The general list on the exchange remained firm and followed the London market where the tone toward the end was almost buoyant.

United States Steel in one block of 15,000 shares sold at 77 to 78, a maximum gain of 2½ points. Reading advanced 3 points on heavy transactions, and Union Pacific was up 1½.

The most sensational gain, however, was shown by American Tobacco stock, which opened at 47½, a gain of 10 points over the closing yesterday when a decision in the case against the corporation was expected to accompany the Standard Oil decision.

Much of the heavy trading in the London market was for New York accounts. A number of local firms sent orders last night after the supreme court decision was announced and it is estimated that the amount of business for American stock on the London exchange ranged from 40,000 to 75,000 shares. The European view of the situation seemed hopeful and brokers here reported inquiries for American stocks from Paris, Berlin, Frankfurt and Amsterdam.

The crowd of traders on the local stock exchange was the largest in many weeks, and the business contrasted sharply with the apathy which existed during the recent period of waiting for the decision of the court.

The largest gains of many months were made later in the stock market after the decision in the Standard Oil case was being decidedly favorable from the Wall street viewpoint. The strength and activity of the market were due also to no small extent to relief which was felt that the decision had been rendered and that the uncertainty which had restricted business for months was out of the way.

Predictions of increased activity in the market after the decision in the Standard Oil case were fully borne out, for in the first hour more than 400,000 shares of stock were traded in, three times the amount of business done at yesterday's closing. A block of 7500 shares of United States Steel brought 78½. Commission houses reported a large influx of outside orders and the strengthening activity and breadth of the market gave striking testimony to the speculative and investment operations on a large scale. Noon prices were from 2 to 3 points above yesterday's closing figures for the principal stocks. Bonds also were strong and active.

William Rockefeller Refuses to State His Opinion of Decision

NEW YORK, May 16.—William Rockefeller, one of the vice presidents of the Standard Oil Company, said: "At this time I cannot say a thing about the decision. The company will make a statement through Mr. Elliott after the decision has been read in every particular."

A conference of directors and officers of the company was held at its offices, but no statement was forthcoming. John D. Rockefeller did not come down from his country place to attend the meeting.

Decision to Cost New Jersey Great Sum in Yearly Tax

TRENTON, N. J., May 16.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court dissolving the Standard Oil company will cost the state of New Jersey $51,000 a year in taxes. This is the amount turned into the state treasury each year by the oil corporation under the law governing the taxation of miscellaneous corporations.

The Standard Oil company, the United States Steel corporation and the American Tobacco company are the biggest tax payers under the miscellaneous corporations act.

Opinions of U. S. Senators Divided on Court's Decision

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Expressions from United States senators on the Standard Oil decision were obtained as follows:

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin: "I look at it as a dangerous decision; for if it be true as Justice Harlan intimates, that combinations to be unlawful just because they are combinations, the court has written into the law a a word congress refused to insert and for which the trusts fought and were defeated."

Senator Kenyon, of Iowa: "Compulsory sentence for violators of the law is the one thing now needed."

Senator Culberson, of Texas: "The opinion of the majority as to the construction of the act in pure judicial legislation, for which the trusts have been contending for 15 years, and which will be used by them to further their combinations and conspiracies against trade."

Brands the Decision Big Victory for "The Good Trusts"

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Supreme Court's decision in the Standard Oil case is characterized as "a victory for the good trusts" by Henry Wolman, a prominent New York attorney, who was counsel for the State of Missouri in its ouster suit against the oil company.

"If I am correct in my analysis of the decision," he said in a statement here, "the so-called combinations, if they have not clean lives, have gained a most important victory in that the Supreme Court has said the test under the Sherman law is whether or not the purpose and intent of the successful combination is to blot out competition regardless of the means employed. The contention of the government is that any monopoly is illegal regardless of motive or conduct."

"The Standard Oil company will not try to evade the spirit of the decision. It will undoubtedly try to 'loophole' these subsidiaries which have brought it under condemnation. It will probably organize some company which can operate such of its properties as will not violate the law."

"In the future the company will not attempt to do these things which have brought it into disrepute. In fact, my judgment is that if it had been judged on its record of more recent years, it would not have been found guilty."

Gary Looks for Benefit as Result of End of Case

NEW YORK, May 16.—"The public has been waiting with great anxiety for this decision," said Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, in commenting on the Standard Oil case.

"The fact that the case has been disposed of should be of great value and benefit. From information received, the language employed by the court should have a good effect. In the comparatively near future business conditions will be improved as a result."

Prosecution Against Co. May Be Started by Wickersham

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Attorney General Wickersham may consider criminal action of the officials in the Standard Oil Company. It is said that in the event the oil trust officials should plead immunity under the statute of limitations, the government could take the position that the combination in restraint of trade was a continuing conspiracy and that the moment the court orders it dissolved.

Decision Received With Great Relief on Parisian Bourse

PARIS, May 16.—The financial interests of Paris, which are especially interested in the situation in the United States, received the announcement of the Supreme Court decision in the Standard Oil case with a sense of great relief. As the opinion generally had been discounted it did not affect the bourse.

SENATORS ENGAGE IN HEATED TILT

Reciprocity Causes a Lively Discussion in Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Senate finance committee engaged in a somewhat heated tilt today over the subject of the Canadian reciprocity witnesses.

Senator Stone of Missouri demanded to know when Allen and Graham said to be New York attorneys and representing the National Grange, were to appear in response to his request that they be summoned to tell of their employment by interests opposed to reciprocity.

Senator Gallinger demanded that "some of those who have made vigorous efforts to accelerate public opinion in favor of reciprocity" should be asked to appear before the committee.

Senator Williams retorted that under these circumstances President Taft ought to be summoned to testify to what he had done to "accelerate public opinion on the question."

Woman Testifies in Wilson Case

Mrs. Bessie Cohn Declares Boas Showed Many Signs of Eccentricity.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Mrs. Bessie Cohn, of 1147 Webster street, testified as to the eccentricities of Henry Boas in the trial of John Wilson today. She averred that he had told her in 1905 that he was going to marry a San Jose girl, taken to be Miss Kelleher; that he claimed his relatives were wealthy, and once sent her a jewel in a Tiffany box, which he later learned that he had never been out of the city, but had obtained the box here.

Other witnesses of the morning were Thomas S. Williams, owner of the Williams building, where Boas had offices, and Arthur Simpson.

CHORUS OF 100 TO AID ORCHESTRA

Prominent Soloists to Take Part With Stewart Club Thursday Evening.

The Stewart Orchestral Club will give an interesting program Thursday evening. A chorus of 100 voices will assist the orchestra of fifty pieces under the direction of Alexander Stewart.

Mrs. Grace Davis Northrup, former director of the Eurydice Club, will be the soloist, and the club will form part of the chorus. Other well-known singers will be:

Mrs. Carrie Nicholson, H. D. Mustard, Walter E. Nicholson, Hugh J. Williams and Philip Hall, while Miss Virginia de Fremery will be at the organ.

A feature of the program will be an unfinished opera, for soprano, chorus and orchestra, "The Loreley," by Menckelsohn. Other numbers will include "Swedish Processional," "Kavaler Scharwenka," and "Russian Romance" (Rudolf Friml), the orchestra; four numbers by Mrs. Northrup—"Viva Amour" (Massenet), "Contentation" (Widor), "Wine and Lyre" (Ware), "A Pastoral" (Carey); overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" (Nicola), the orchestra; chorus of women's voices—"Ave Maria," "A Vintage Song," chorus of men's voices, "Solitude on the Mountain"; "Ole Bull Svendsen," the orchestra; "chorus with baritone solo," "The Miller's Wooing" (Fanning), and "Old French Christmas Carol" (Gavert), soloist H. D. Mustard; sextet from "Lucia," chorus and the following soloists: Mrs. Northrup, Mrs. Nicholson, Hugh J. Williams, Philip Hall, H. D. Mustard and Walter E. Nicholson.

RUSH TO ASSAULT WITH BAYONETS

French in Algiers Put Enemy to Flight on Way to Fez.

REL ATOUIN, Morocco, May 16.—The section of the French relief column under Lieutenant Colonel Bavaouza engaged the rebels at Merada on Sunday. The rebellious tribesmen lost 100 men killed and 100 wounded.

Other parts of the French column were fiercely attacked. The French drove off the enemy at the point of the bayonet. The column is proceeding to Fez to the aid of the besieged Moroccan and French forces at the capital.

First Aerotaxi to Be Run in Lucerne

Swiss Machine Has "Windmill" Taximeter; Cross Country Flights Planned.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The first aerotaxi will be put into service in a week or two at Lucerne, Switzerland, according to advice received by the Aero club. A French company is the builder of the novel machine, which is a simple, fitted with a "windmill" taximeter.

Passengers will be carried on short cross country flights at a fixed rate per kilometer.

Enthusiasts calculate that the aerotaxi will ultimately make a far cheaper conveyance than the street car, owing to the fact that it will be able to follow in the air where, furthermore, there will probably be no trouble from congested traffic for some time to come.

Derailed Freight Cars Blockade S. P. Route

Shasta Line Trains Held Up Until 7 This Morning Owing to Bad Wreck.

REDDING, May 16.—Eight freight cars were derailed on the river near Gibson at 10 o'clock last night. The Shasta route was blocked until 7 o'clock today.

COUPLE HELD TO ANSWER FOR THEFT

Thomas McCarthy and Harry Raymond, two young men with an unlimited list of aliases who were captured on a Berkeley train at Sixteenth street station by railroad officers, were held to answer this morning on grand larceny charges preferred by David Hutton, whose purse it is charged they stole.

SYNDICATE SUED FOR ACCOUNTING

Effort Made to Secure Receiver for "Forward Movement" Society.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Suit for an accounting and for the appointment of a receiver was begun today against the Forward Movement syndicate, a corporation organized for the spreading of the gospel of new religious experience for the maintenance of truth and upright living and for the development of a new generation of people and a new order of life, and the forming of a religious community in Sonoma county to be known as the Lavandale Eucalyptus Forest.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Florence Morris, and Fred L. Larsen and his wife, Eva C. Larsen, claim that they purchased shares in the project, Mrs. Morris paying $274 for 2000 shares and the Larsens $1120 for a like number.

The advance notices declared that all true believers must deliver up all their worldly goods and turn them in for the purchase of shares, at the rate of 75 cents per share.

It is claimed by the complainants that expectations were false and the corporation has no land, but subsequently obtained an option on a piece of $1000, and that the money taken in was applied by the officers toward their living expenses. The officers of the organization, as given in the complaint, are Thaddeus F. Fritz, president; Mrs. Mary D. Sheehan, secretary and treasurer; Edwyne Sheehan, vice president and superintendent; and Mary W. Kilborn, second vice president.

CARPENTER KILLED BY TRAIN AT MOLE

Wm. J. Curtis Is Found Dead Beside Track in a Pool of Blood.

William J. Curtis, a carpenter, was struck by a Southern Pacific train some time during the night while at the Oakland mole, and his body was found this morning about 5 o'clock by the crew of a switch engine lying beside the tracks in a pool of blood. The skull was fractured and the man had been dead for some time. The remains were removed to the morgue.

Curtis was about 40 years of age and single. He was the son of a wealthy rancher of San Lorenzo, where he has a father, mother and sister. It is not known how he came to be at the mole at the time he was struck.

WOMAN SUICIDE FROM THE SOUTH

Body Identified as That of Mrs. Florence Chaney of Los Angeles.

The body of a woman known as Catherine Clark, found after she had committed suicide at 1355 Broadway by cutting her wrists, swallowing poison and asphyxiation, has been identified as that of Mrs. Florence Chaney, a widow, of Los Angeles, L. A. Williams visiting the morgue and making the identification. The woman, it is understood, came to the place the night previous to her suicide with an unknown man, and gave her name as Mrs. Eleanor Miller. She had been living a somewhat irregular life, according to her friends, and it is thought that her death was due to despondency over lack of money and ill-health.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD IN RESPECT TO CONLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon a session was held in the police court out of respect to the memory of Judge Charles P. Conlan, pioneer committing magistrate of this city, who died on Saturday. Among those who spoke in feeling of the character of the departed jurist were Samuel B. Shortridge, Lewis F. Bryington, Thomas F. O'Connor and Judges Barney Flood, Edward Shortall and Charles Weller.

SAILORS OF WORLD READY TO STRIKE

Almost 300,000 Seamen Will Be Involved by Walkout Order.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Secretary Mathew Teale of the American branch of the National Sailors and Firemen's Union of Great Britain yesterday received an official communication from the Seamen's International Committee stating that the proposed march in international shipping strike will start next week. Secretary Teale at once issued the following:

"The international shipping strike will start next week. All arrangements have been completed. Italian, French, Norwegian, Spanish and Lascars are ready to go out to a man. The strike will involve between 200,000 and 300,000 men."

The general strike ultimatum in part contains the following demands: Constitution of a conciliation board, national minimum rate of wages, manning scales for stoke hold, deck and galley, right of seamen to a portion of wages in port during the voyage, hours of labor and rates of overtime to be fixed.

FIND WAY TO DISINFECT POOLS

The Plunges Must Be Kept in Sanitary Condition, Say Savants.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 16.—Recent declarations by physicians of the necessity of keeping swimming pools in a sanitary condition by the use of some adequate disinfectant has led to a series of tests by the athletic authorities at Brown University. Disinfection by heat is declared to be out of the question on account of expense, but the problem has been apparently solved by the use of hypochlorite of lime.

The chemical was used in a strength of one part available in 2,000,000. After the hypochlorite had been in the pool one hour, complete sterility of the water was effected. The pool remained practically sterile for four days.

Just because all flesh is grass, you are not justified in calling everybody a hayseed.

TIRED, RUN DOWN PEOPLE A North Carolina Man Suggests a Remedy.

Greensboro, N. C.—"For a long time I was so run down and debilitated that I could hardly drag around. My appetite was poor and I could not sleep nights. I had tried different so-called tonics without benefit. I was advised to try your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol, and I am so glad I did, for it gave me a hearty appetite. I soon commenced to sleep soundly and I feel strong, well and more active than I have for years. Every run-down or debilitated person should just give Vinol a trial." K. Alsbrook. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

What Vinol did for Mr. Alsbrook it will do for every weak, run-down or debilitated person in this vicinity. To show our faith we will furnish the medicine free if it does not do as we claim. Come and get a bottle on these terms. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

CLERGYMEN TO GO ON TRIAL FOR HERESY

Several Ministers Will Face Accusations of Presbyterian Assembly.

IMPORTANT MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED

Question of Adopting Intermediate Catechism Will Be Discussed.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—Prominent among the matters to be taken up by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, which meets for its one hundred and twenty-third annual session here on Thursday, will be the question of alleged heretic utterances by several clergymen, the reduction of representation, both lay and clerical, the grouping of several boards that carry on the work of church organization and the question of adopting an intermediate catechism.

One of the main things to be done will be the election of a moderator to succeed Charles Little of Wabash, Ind. Four names have been mentioned for the honor, the Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Hunt, Danville, Ky.; the Rev. John Dixon, Trenton, N. J.; the Rev. John F. Carson, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Mark A. Matthews, Seattle, Wash.

CHARGE HERESY.

The heresy case hangs over the Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, president of the Union Theology Seminary, Dr. William A. Brown, professor of Systematic Theology of the same institution, and the Rev. Dr. Wm. Grant of Northumberland, Pa., a graduate of Union Seminary. The case against the two Browns was taken up by the Presbyterian of Pittsburgh, which refused to overturn the general assembly to inquire into alleged heretical articles printed in religious publications by them; but two other presbyteries, Iowa and West Jersey, adopted such an overtone, and it will be presented to the general assembly and no doubt referred to the committee on bills and overtures for action.

ACQUITTED ONCE.

The heresy case of Dr. Grant was to have been submitted to the Pennsylvania Synod, but it was later decided to have the general assembly take it up. Dr. Grant was acquitted by a judicial commission of the assembly of charges somewhat similar to those against the Browns, but the prosecution was not satisfied and took steps to carry the case to the higher bodies. Among other matters the executive committee will report to the assembly is that of representation. It has previously adopted two plans, each of which reduces the present size of the big body. It being argued that a more compact general assembly can better transact the church business.

The special committee on an intermediate catechism will make its report in the form of an intermediate catechism. It is said that a minority report will be made at the same time.

MURDER VICTIM HURLED IN RIVER

The Body of Man Hauled Out With Arms Bound to Side With Wire.

CHICAGO, May 16.—The body of a man whose arms had been pinned to his sides and his legs wrapped with a heavy wire, was taken from the river at the Madison street bridge last night. There is a single clew to his identity, the laundry mark, "M. A.—454."

The police opinion of this mystery is that the victim was murdered by "sluggers," that possibly he was slain as a result of labor troubles.

Great bruises on the right shoulder, arm and leg of the body, and what appears to be a bullet wound in the right leg below the knee, cause the police to believe the man may have been the victim of more than one assailant. This theory is further borne out by the fact that a wire was bound tightly about the man's trunk, holding his arms fast to his sides. Another wire was attached to the left leg above the ankle, to which, it is believed, a weight had been attached to sink the body.

THURSDAY NIGHT CLUB TO PRESIDE AT DANCING PARTY

Members of Thursday Night Club, who are to give another Shirt Waist Party.

Owing to popular demand, a second summer shirt waist party will be given by the Thursday Night Club at Maple Hall on the evening of May 18. Five hundred invitations have been sent out and the committee has completed all arrangements for the affair.

The club gave several successful parties during the winter season and is looking forward to a delightful time Thursday.

The members of the committee who are helping to make the affair a success are: Miss Irene Pattarga, Miss Florence Sidden, Miss Lucile Clarkson, Miss Lena Gaciarini and Miss Adelaide Wolcott.

INSULAR AFFAIRS MAY BE PROBED

Representative Slayden Demands Inquiry Into Official Acts of D. C. Worcester.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A petition to Congress, signed by publishers, clergymen, professors, scientists and others, requesting a special inquiry into the manner in which D. C. Worcester has discharged his duties as commissioner of the Philippine islands was submitted to the House today by Representative Slayden of Texas.

The petition is in the form of a resolution and charges that Commissioner Worcester "has become notoriously unpopular among the natives," that "final evidence was given by a resolution unanimously adopted by the general assembly of the Philippine islands as the closing act of its last session."

Among the petitioners are E. H. Clement, former editor of the Boston Transcript; John Ritchie, Boston Scientific Society; Frederick Storer, University of Chicago; Louis C. Garvin, ex-governor of Rhode Island; Oswald G. Villard, New York, and Rev. A. A. Berte, Peoples Church, Boston.

In submitting the petition Representative Slayden said he believed the case should be a searching critical examination of the affairs of the Philippine islands.

ALLEGED SHE USES AS MEANS OF GRAFT, UNIONISM

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Miss Rose Unyears of the bookbinders' union has notified the police that a woman posing as a member of the organization is endeavoring to bunco merchants and residents throughout the city. She is soliciting aid for a sick member and has a pathetic story of hardship to unfold in her search for aims. Miss Unyears declares that the woman is an impostor, and has asked to her arrest.

No Salts, Oil or Pills But 'Cascarets'

No Odds How Sick Your Stomach; How Hard Your Head Aches; How Bilious—Cascarets Make You Feel Great.

Cascarets act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable. Their action is natural. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no griping. They are pleasant; no dreading. They are convenient; no waiting.

One old way was castor oil. The effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Oil never causes the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid. Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effects only weakened the bowels. But we had no gentle laxative in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascaret at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean. They cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store.

WILL SEEK LOST CITIES OF INCAS

Yale Scientific Expedition to Leave New York City Next Month.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 16.—The Yale scientific expedition to Peru, recently authorized by the university corporation, will leave New York on June 8. There will be six men in the party, three of them members of the Yale faculty, headed by Dr. Elmer Ingham, professor of Latin American history.

Ten years ago, Professor Bingham started Chequequiri—one of the lost cities of the Incas—lost because they have been swallowed up in jungles. He hopes on this expedition to find more of these cities.

The work before the expedition is divided into three parts. There is the archaeological work, of which the problem is, how far the Incas held sway. Then there is the pathological problem, the study of the diseases of the region. Lastly, the scientists will make a detailed "survey" of a section of Peru, "an all-round reconnaissance of the country, archaeologically, geologically, biologically and geographically." They will visit Mount Corbuna, which some geologists say is the highest mountain in the Western hemisphere, and probably make an accurate measure of its altitude.

By agreement with the Peruvian government, any buried treasure which the expedition finds will be turned over to the authorities.

SAN JOSE COUNCILMAN IS FATALLY INJURED

SAN JOSE, May 16.—Joseph E. Robinson, a member of the City Council, was fatally hurt last night, when he fell from a street car while endeavoring to recover his hat, which had been blown from his head.

Following the accident Robinson was taken to his home. Here physicians were called, and it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain and a fracture of the skull. His doctors and his friends believe that he will not recover.

Robinson has been a member of the council three years. He is an employing carriage painter, with a business establishment on Post street.

BURGLARS TAKE EXPENSIVE LIQUORS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Burglars treated themselves to a lot of expensive drinks and cigars, disdaining cheap liquor when they broke into the saloon of August Busse, 227 Brannan street, some time during the night. Beer was ignored by the culprits, who stole a number of bottles of whiskey and vermouth, and some expensive cigars.

The Druggist Knew From Experience

I have been selling Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for the past three years and those of my customers who buy it speak favorably regarding it. I have used it in my own family with good results, and I believe the preparation has great curative value. You may use this as you like.

Very respectfully,

When writing, be sure to mention The Oakland Daily Tribune. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

MEET TO SETTLE BIG LAND DISPUTE

Mexico and United States to Decide Ownership.

EL PASO, May 16.—An international commission met here yesterday to decide the ownership between nations of seven million dollars' worth of property now on the American side of the Rio Grande in the southern section of El Paso. The land is known as the Chisna strip and jurisdiction is exercised by the United States, but Mexico lays claim to it on the ground that the river changed from its original course in 1852 and that the property thrown on the American side is Mexican territory.

The arbitration board consisted of General Anson Mills, representing the United States; Beltrany Fuga, representing Mexico, and Judge E. Lefleur of Canada, sits as umpire. Among the attorneys in the case is Joaquin Casassus, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, who represents his government.

The property is about five blocks wide and two blocks long in the southern part of the city, its inhabitants being mostly Mexican. Several European enterprises are on the site, however.

BURGLAR ALARM WAS EFFECTIVE

Home Made Variety Worked Well for San Francisco Jeweler.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—A home-made burglar alarm roused H. J. Lorenzen, a jeweler of 12 Market street, in time to put a burglar to rout at 12:20 this morning. Lorenzen was awakened by the sound made by the intruder who had forced the door, and dashing from his room in the rear attempted to grasp the culprit. With surprising agility, the man twisted from the clutches of his captor and sped around the corner of Sacramento street.

Corporal McCormick and Casey made a search for him, but could not find him.

WAGON MAKER DIES FROM BICHLORIDE POISONING

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—After lingering between life and death for three days, R. J. Jenkins, a wagon-builder, who resided at the Lick House, Fifth and Mission streets, died at the Central Emergency hospital this morning. Jenkins was removed to the Harbor hospital on Saturday suffering from bichloride poisoning, taken, it is believed, with suicidal intent. He came here recently from South Carolina.

MAN ARRESTED FOR THE ALLEGED THEFT OF SPUDS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Police-men Morris and Barnett last night arrested Charles McNulty and booked him at the Harbor station for burglary. Together with a man named Kelly, McNulty is accused of having broken into the store of Jacobs, Malcolm & Butts, 8 Oregon street, and stealing a number of sacks of potatoes.

GIRL THOUGHT DEMENTED MISSING SINCE MAY 13

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Anna Nylund, residing at 3879 Twenty-third street, has been missing from her home since May 13. She is believed to be slightly demented as the result of illness, and is described as twenty years old, five feet seven inches tall, and of light build.

CONFERENCE OF CITY PLANNING IS CALLED

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—The Third National Conference of City Planning was formerly opened in the city hall this morning with delegates in attendance from many American and European cities.

The exhibition consists of models, perspectives, photographs, plans, maps, etc., illustrating the growth of city planning in America and Europe. The marvelous growth of the boulevard system of Paris, the beautiful cities of England, the great docks of Liverpool, Antwerp, Rotterdam and Bremen are shown. In the exhibition are also drawings for the replanning of Chicago, the drawing of the development of Washington, drawing for the improvement of New York City, Boston, Rochester, Columbus, Cleveland, St. Paul, Portland, Ore., Denver, Des Moines and many other cities.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alternative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of nervous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sane remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

DR. OWEN FAILS TO FIND BACONIAN RELICS

CHEPSTOW, Wales, May 16. — The operations of Dr. Orville W. Owen, of Detroit, who is excavating in the mud of the river Wye for hidden manuscripts which he believes will establish that Bacon was the author of the Shakespearean plays, are proceeding slowly. Much timber has been taken out of the river bed, but no Baconian relics have been discovered.

BOSTON BOARD OF HEALTH GETS SECRETARY IN WEST

BOSTON, May 16. — After a vain search in the East for a man qualified for the secretaryship of the Boston Board of Health, the city has decided to give the position to a Western man. It has been offered to Dr. Francis H. Slack, of the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan. He will receive a salary of $3000 the first year. The present secretary, Charles E. Davis, is to be retired under the veteran act.

BRANDS NEW YORK HOBOS' PARADISE

James Forbes Declares That Beggars Mulet Residents of Large Sums.

NEW YORK, May 16.—"The Pan-handlers Paradise" is what James Forbes, head of the National Association for the Prevention of Mendacity, calls New York city, in his annual report. Professional beggars, he calculates, mulet the people of the city out of $18,000,000 a year. "It is impossible to tell with any exactness," he says, "how many professional beggars there are in New York as distinguished from those who may be driven to ask aid as a result of genuine misfortunes. Probably from 7000 to 9000 would be a conservative estimate. A beggar who is at all skillful can make pickings of $5 or $6 a day, so that the sum they secure from the public is in the aggregate a large one."

SANTA ROSA MAN DIES OF INJURIES

SANTA ROSA, May 16.—Jacob Schelling, one of Santa Rosa's best-known men, is dead as the result of injuries received by being run over by an automobile driven by J. E. Bennett. Schelling was riding his bicycle to Masonic temple to attend a meeting of Santa Rosa Commandery of Knights Templar, of which he is an officer, when he met with an accident. The street was crowded and both Schelling and Bennett swerved at the same moment, each expecting the other would pass on the opposite side. The automobile passed over Schelling and he sustained a compound fracture of the skull and other injuries. Schelling is survived by a widow and five children. He was associated with his brothers, A. C. Schelling and George Schelling, in conducting a large garage in this city. The funeral will be under Masonic auspices.

S. P. LOCOMOTIVE BURSTS. SAN BERNARDINO, May 16.—Fireman Frank E. Schelling, of El Paso, Texas, was blown out of his cab window and killed and Engineer C. A. McDonald of Colton was injured in a peculiar accident at Bryn Mawr, near Redland, when an engine on the Southern Pacific Limited blew up.

THE HERPICIDE GIRL

Says Everyone Can Have Beautiful Hair.

I am really ashamed of some of my girl friends when I look at their hair. There is no sense in having such looking heads. It simply shows that while they may be scrupulously neat in every other way, they are careless about their hair.

Thin, scraggy, wispy hair generally indicates dandruff and dandruff is caused by a germ. Newbro's Herpicide will kill that germ and keep the scalp as clean and healthy as can be. This permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly. That terrible itching which goes with dandruff stops with almost the first application.

Substitutes or remedies said to be "just as good" are sometimes offered, but it is better to buy the genuine original germ killer, Newbro's Herpicide. There is no guesswork about that preparation. A trial isn't necessary, just buy a bottle and use it. The results are sure to be better than you expect.

For sale at drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications obtained at the better barber shops. Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

STREET RAILROADS OF CHICAGO TO BE UNITED

Gigantic Merger Plans Are Completed After a Year's Negotiations.

OTHER LINES LIKELY TO ENTER COMBINE

Company to Take Over Roads Representing $271,736,720 Capitalization.

CHICAGO, May 16.—Announcement was made in New York last night of the completion of negotiations for the merging of all elevated railway properties in Chicago, according to the Tribune.

Initial papers were signed, binding the National City Bank of New York as head of the banking syndicate to underwrite $22,000,000 cash, to be offered the stockholders in the several companies.

A first and refunding bond issue was provided for to take up the $18,000,000. Northwestern Elevated four per cent bonds due on September 1, and an agreement was reached for an alternate offer of securities to be made the stockholders of the elevated roads who may prefer stock in the company to cash for their holdings.

YEAR'S NEGOTIATIONS.

The agreement reached yesterday marks the culmination of nearly a year's negotiations with the New York financial interests by Henry A. Blair.

It definitely plans the consolidation of companies operating 177 miles of track, carrying 600,000 passengers daily, representing more than $160,000,000 of capital obligations. But, important as is the merger of the elevated systems, it is in a sense but preliminary to a greater and final consolidation in progress, which will put together in a unit all the street railway transportation systems of Chicago.

GIGANTIC MERGER.

In fact, negotiations on general lines for the merger of the Chicago City Railway Company with the Chicago Railway Company were entered into before the elevated merger could be carried out. With the elevated proposition closed, there will be a resumption of conferences looking toward putting together the surface system.

To consummate the big merger will require an underwriting syndicate for something like $60,000,000. The total capitalization of the transportation companies now stands at $271,736,720, and last year's gross earnings totaled over $33,000,000. The surface and elevated combination will have a combined trackage or more than 1075 miles.

JACK JOHNSON AGAIN IN TOILS OF THE LAW

NEW YORK, May 16.—Jack Johnson, the champion heavyweight pugilist, for the first time since he got out of the San Francisco jail after serving a term for speeding his auto, was late yesterday held up by a bicycle policeman at Columbus Circle and served with a summons to appear in court for driving his automobile under an old Chicago license.

Johnson got the fright of his life when he was held up, but he soon drew a sigh of relief when he learned he was not to be locked up. A large crowd gathered about the champion, who joked and poked all sorts of fun at him on his habit of falling about of the police.

"Holy smoke, will ma troubles never end?" said Jack to Policeman Johnson, who had noticed the license was "Chicago, 1910."

NEW TRAIN SERVICE TO SHORTEN TIME

CHICAGO, May 16.—Important changes and additions relative to the passenger service on the transcontinental lines will go into effect on May 28. As a result of the improvements on the Union and Southern Pacific lines, which have made possible a very substantial reduction in the running time between Chicago and Oakland, the schedule of the Overland will be cut three and a half hours eastward, and four and a half hours westward.

The Burlington will make an addition to its facilities by putting two more trains in service between Chicago and Denver. On the same day the Rock Island will put an additional train each way between Denver and Chicago. The St. Paul road will also put on new trains.

ARMY MEN PLAN SUIT TO "PROTECT DIGNITY"

TUCSON, May 16.—Two army captains are to bring the first suit under the new Congressional act, "to protect the dignity and honor of the uniform of the United States."

The officers are Captain E. O. C. Ord, retired inspector of the Arizona militia, and Captain Mendenhall, 19th Infantry, temporarily in command of Whipple Barracks at Prescott. They were refused admission to a skating rink because of their uniforms.

They will ask through United States Attorney Morrison for the Federal prosecution of the rink proprietor, Edward Darlington.

The attention of the War Department has been called to the incident. The Department of Justice will direct the prosecution.

GIRL KILLED WHEN SHE TRIES TO STOP DUEL

BIXBY, Mo., May 16.—In an attempt to save the life of her father, who was fighting a duel with Drew Pitts, a neighbor, Edna Butler, 19 years old, rushed between the two men and was shot and killed by Pitts. The girl's father, James Butler, 60 years old, was shot twice in the body. He probably will die. Pitts went to Ironton, Mo., and surrendered to the sheriff.

DICK FERRIS WOULD INCORPORATE HIMSELF

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Dick Ferris, capitalist, theatrical promoter and balloon racer, who once aspired to the lieutenant-governorship of this State and talked of taking Lower California from Mexico, took another flyer yesterday. He incorporated himself. Dick wants to deal in mines and oil stocks, promote amusements, and do all sorts of things, under the name of Richard Ferris, Incorporated. He capitalized himself at only $10,000, though he is rated at many times that, and his wife, Florence Stone, doesn't take much stock in him as a corporation—she subscribes for only $100 worth. E. C. Betts, who has been associated with Ferris in several enterprises, also signed up for $100.

REAR ADMIRAL MASON PUT ON NAVAL BOARD

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rear Admiral Newton E. Mason, who has just relinquished the office of chief of ordnance of the navy, has been assigned to duty as a member of the general board of the navy headed by Admiral Dewey.

A Reformer in His Variety.

The importance of being a reformer consists largely in the immunity it gives against suspicions that would track the footsteps of the unregenerate. Now there is the good reformer Kent, who represents the Second California district in that branch of Congress over which the wicked Cannon used to rule. It was divulged in the course of government business that Mr. Kent had fenced in a large quantity of government land in Nevada, upon which grazed his herds of wide-eyed kine. Mr. Kent denounced this disclosure as a false and criminal device, invented and disclosed to injure him as a candidate for Congress. His walls were wafted afar, even into Oyster Bay, and Colonel Roosevelt spent a dollar on a telegraphic night letter in which to assure "My dear Kent" that of course he had never fenced in government land, and was incapable of such heinous conduct. But the government proceedings in the matter went on, and in due course it was disclosed that the investigation of Kent's fences had begun long before he became a reformer and sacrosanct candidate for Congress, and the same continued until his company was duly indicted by a Federal Grand Jury, and his sinful and all-enclosing fences rose up against him.

Now Mr. Kent is in Congress and his fellow reformer, Mr. Fisher, is Secretary of the Interior, and stands in need of an Assistant Attorney General as the law officer of his department to pass upon such desperate crimes as the fencing of public land. In this Interior emergency it is Kent to the rescue, and on his recommendation his friend and fellow-reformer, Cobb, is selected by his reform friend Fisher and appointed to the place.

Now to fence in public land is a serious statutory offense, and is a moral crime, a malum in se, as it is a crime for which Mr. Richards and several other Nebraska cow-punchers are now serving a sentence in prison, given them as a sort of dessert on top of a stout fine. If Richards, the wretch, had persuaded the unreformed Ballinger to appoint his legal prochein ami Assistant Attorney General to guard the public domain against illegal fencing, the rigidly righteous would have been heard in a chorus in which the voice of Kent would have been the loudest, for Richards is not a reformer; he is a mere fence of public land, and is sprouting the pin feathers which a little later will make him a full-fledged jailbird.

If the school bonds carry, as we hope they will, it is to be hoped that the new school buildings will be erected with more diligence than was displayed in the erection of the last lot. Additional school room is not now a more urgent need than it was half a dozen years ago, yet the construction of the new buildings was delayed till the public became fairly exasperated. More school room is sadly needed at the present time, and it will be a shame if the buildings are not promptly erected in case the bond issue is approved. The inordinate and inexcusable delay shown the last time caused some people to oppose this bond issue. It left a bad taste in the public mouth, a sore spot in the popular memory. The people are heartily tired of dilatory tactics. They want results, and they want them without unnecessary procrastination. When bonds are voted for public improvements it angers and disappoints the public to have the work authorized by a referendum postponed and held back for no adequate reason. We want more school room now—not five years hence. If the bonds are voted the buildings should be put up at once.

The effort of Senator Works to reform the saloon business in Washington will be watched with interest. He proposes to limit the number of dram shops in the District of Columbia. He seems to have taken the saloon census of the capital in quick time, and has decided that there are too many drinking places. Doubtless it is rather trying for a new man to take them all in on his first visit to Washington. Even soda fountains will pall on a temperance palate if patronized too extensively. Senator Works is entitled to the moral support of his constituents in his efforts to lop off some of the heads of the Demon Rum.

Probably some people will regard the decision in the Standard Oil case as an argument in favor of the recall of judges.

The Standard Oil Decision.

Doubtless the Standard Oil magnates were fully prepared for the decision of the United States Supreme Court dissolving the giant corporation as a trust in restraint of trade, and have marked out the course they will pursue; there will be no cessation of the activities in which they engaged, though the method of operation will be changed. They cannot be surprised at the decision, for the case went against them in the lower court, and the general belief has been growing that the judgment would be affirmed in the court of last resort.

Hence no financial convulsion will follow. The court has adhered closely to the letter and meaning of the anti-trust law; it has enunciated no revolutionary doctrine, but on the contrary has construed the law in accordance with ancient principles and with scrupulous regard for the differentiation which must be observed and allowed for if the whole scheme of corporate activity is not to be destroyed or thrown into chaos. The court has upheld the law, but in doing so has held it within its contemplated scope and construed it in the light of reason as applied to existing conditions.

In his preliminary remarks Chief Justice White was careful to explain that the decision rested upon the fact that the Standard Oil Company is engaged in restraining trade that it may hold a monopoly in petroleum products. His language indicates that a technical trust is not necessarily in violation of the law, or to state it more clearly, perhaps, contrary to the purposes which the anti-trust law was designed to accomplish. That statute was never intended to strike at corporate activities or to interfere with the corporate form of industrial and financial organization. It was framed to prevent combinations in restraint of trade and the exactions which result from certain phases of monopoly.

Justice White's remarks show that the court strove to follow the intent of the law and not to broaden its application. Corporations whose contracts are not "unreasonably restrictive of competition" are not affected by the decision. Moreover, the court announced that other great corporations whose acts may be called into question will be dealt with according to the merits of their particular cases. In other words, conspiracy to restrain trade and establish monopoly is the essential fact which must be proved as a predicate for the ban of illegality.

There is nothing destructive or alarming in the decision. It is merely the assertion of a wholesome and long established rule applied to the richest and most powerful corporation in the country. It proves that the law has abundant vitality to correct evils of combinations to restrain trade and build up monopolies, and that the courts can be relied upon to vindicate public right whenever the issue is fairly presented. When the ridiculous judgment of Judge Landis inflicting fines aggregating $29,000,000 for offenses which were merely nominal was reversed a cry went up that the courts were standing in with the corporations. In the case just decided the court grappled with a proposition infinitely more stupendous and far-reaching. Public right has been vindicated by a judgment which orders the Standard Oil Company to dissolve.

ON A RAMPAGE AGAIN

Not only is the decision sound and sane, but it conserves financial order and stability. The Standard Oil magnates will now be compelled to operate in conformity with the law and adjust their organization to requirements which Congress has imposed for the protection of the people.

The high encomium passed by General Ian Hamilton, inspector general of the English army, on the United States army engineers in charge of constructive work on the Panama canal should excite pardonable pride in the breast of every American citizen. General Hamilton said it made him feel proud as a soldier to see how splendidly army engineers had acquitted themselves in a task that put to shame the building of the pyramids. The praise is as generous as it is deserved. The army engineers have done wonders at Panama. They have done work faster and cheaper than the civil engineers were able to do. They will complete the canal fully a year ahead of the estimated time and the cost of the canal will be within the limit of the estimates. They have made the isthmus, once regarded as a pest hole, one of the healthiest spots on the globe, and have gone ahead so quietly and with so little friction that the American people are scarcely able to realize the rapid progress that is being made. Colonel Goethals and his subordinates are magnificent testimony to the value of the training given at West Point.

The decision of the Supreme Court did not prevent the Standard Oil Company from declaring the usual dividend of $9 a share. But the dispatches say that John D. Rockefeller is sick. It is reasonable to believe that he is.

MEN AND WOMEN

He met her one night at a reception and asked her to go to the theater with him. She accepted, and as they liked each other they went again later. Then it got to be a weekly occurrence.

Finally he got to thinking that he was solid enough with her to go out between the acts, and so he did. For several weeks he worked this and met no rebuff. But she was thinking a lot, even though she wasn't saying anything. One evening she said, "Why don't you go to the smoking room to smoke instead of going to the lobby?"

"Is there a smoking room inside?" he asked.

"Of course. You always say that you are going to smoke, and it seems so useless to have to take your hat and coat every time. And if you thought of it beforehand, you could buy those cigarettes that you seem to like—the ones that smell like cloves, you know—before you come."

He is wondering if she is as wise as it seems, or as innocent as it appears.—Boston Traveler.

John Lane, the well-known publisher, said at a literary dinner in New York: "As an editor, I find nobody so persistent as the amateur contributor. If the amateur was half as ingenious in writing his material as in trying to land it he would become a Dickens in no time. "An amateur said the other day to an editor: 'I know: "Allow me to submit this bear story."

"My readers don't care for bear stories," said the editor. "They want something spicy."

"But this," said the amateur, "is a story about a cinnamon bear."—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Sergeant Joseph Fagan of the detective bureau tells an amusing story about his dealings with women who have business with the police department. A short time ago a woman very excitedly reported to him that her home had been entered by a thief, whom she had the good fortune to see, and incidentally battle with as he was about to leave. The man was known as the "key man," and in the upper courts this week received fourteen years.

"Could you describe the man to me?" asked Sergeant Fagan.

"Why, yes; he was about six feet tall and had dark hair, and in fact, I could identify him very easily."

Wilkinson, who had just been captured by the detective, was brought before her, and she exclaimed: "That's him!"

Wilkinson had gray hair and was 5 feet 2 inches tall.—Newark Star.

GROWTH OF WIRELESS

It is barely five years since the wireless telegraph passed out of the experimental stage and was universally recognized as a practical means of long-distance communication. By July 1 every ocean-going steamship leaving an American port that carries fifty persons, including passengers and crew, by law must be equipped with a wireless-telegraph outfit capable of sending messages 100 miles.

Nothing more important has been done in many years to increase the safety of travel at sea than the general installation of wireless. Under the new system not only will every steamship be provided with better means of self-protection, but it will be a means of protection for other ships. The quickness with which relief arrived from different quarters at the time of the collision that resulted in the sinking of the Republic demonstrated once for all how hereafter the ocean is to be dotted with life-saving stations.

Other uses of the wireless at sea are to be regarded as a convenience for passenger-carrying steamships has now become almost as much of a safeguard against disaster as a proper equipment of life-boats.—New-York World.

RHYMED STUFF

BALLADE BELOW STAIRS.
When we were accepted by Bridget O'Day,

"John," says I, "we've discovered a prize;
With her in the kitchen housekeeping is play.
Think, my dear, of her pates and pies!"
She turned out a traitor in female disguise.

Jewels she stole like the blackest of crooks.
The essence of truth in this sentiment lies—
"God sends us meat, and the devil sends us cooks!"

Then Gretchen the Strong took us under her sway;
Plates she smashed right in front of our eyes!
The damage she wrought proved our utter dismay,
All our china she treated likewise!

Though feminine weaklings we truly despise,
Maid a la Samson we cross off our books.
In the face of these words every argument flies—
"God sends meat, and the devil sends cooks!"

But to better conditions we thought we'd essay—
To a chef, we declared, we must certainly rise!
And just when our courage was ebbing away
Fate repelled to our suppliant cries.

That Francois was drunk all the time, we surmise,
Flasks were found in the queerest of nooks.
Oh, won't some high power this edict revise?—
"God sends meat, and the devil sends cooks!"

ENVOL.
Dear ladies! Remember, when you advertise,
Treachery lurks beneath innocent looks
And we'll never delight in domestic franchise
While God sends meat, and the devil sends cooks!—Puck.

FORGERY AS AN ART

Both patriotism and personalities figure in the controversy started by a German expert over the genuineness of an illuminated manuscript "that brought a big price at the Hoe Library sale. Some of the most sensitive disputants seem to imagine that the honor of the American nation is involved and are in favor of immediate hostilities.

Was there ever a great collector or museum that at some time was not deceived by the wiles of the forger or crooked dealer? The Louvre, on the advice of eminent experts, paid $40,000 for the famous tiara of Sappho, only to discover later to its discomfort that the gold crown was the work of a living Russian artisan and that the Scythian King never existed. Herr Bode, director of the Berlin Museum, one of the greatest of living experts, has been tricked several times with imitation Greek medals, terra cottas and bronzes. When he bought the wax bust of an obscure Victorian artist as a work of Leonardo de Vinci he was the victim of his own zeal.—New York World.

Political Comment

"I don't like either the recall or the initiative and referendum. The recall will make cowards and weather-vanes of public officials," says former Governor Hoch of Kansas. Hoch der ex-governor this one time, at least.—Richmond News Leader.

The more the Canadian reciprocity figures are studied the clearer it becomes that the country is going to save a good deal more on prices than it loses in revenue.—Indianapolis News.

A NEW BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Archibald Henderson, a professor at an American university, has hit on an excellent new way to write a biography. You pick out your hero. Then you ask for his co-operation. At first, of course, he will refuse to have anything to do with you, or your great enterprise. But by degrees he will come around, and see the importance of censoring the chapters in which is set forth a proper estimate of his work. You may even get him to supply his own explanations.

This the Professor's "George Bernard Shaw; His Life and Works" is described as "authorized." We can only guess to what extent Johnson was aware of what Bowyer was doing. But not so with Mr. Shaw's Dr. Henderson. The author of "Man and Superman" may protest as much as he likes. Such a game as this is conclusive as to the partnership. G. B. S. is talking:

"For ten years past with an unprecedented pertinacity and obstinacy, I have been dining into the public head that I am an extraordinarily witty, brilliant, and clever man. That is now part of the public opinion of England, and no power in heaven or on earth will ever change it. I may dotter and dote;

I may pot-boil and platitudinize; I may become the butt and chopping block of all the bright, original spirits of the rising generation; but my reputation shall not suffer. It is built up fast and solid, like Shakespeare's, on an impregnable base of dogmatic toleration."

But that is not the only comparison. Mr. Shaw is a whole picture gallery of resemblances. He may be Shakespeare; he is also Rabelaisian:

"Vagary as a medium is invaluable. My case is really the case of Rabelais over again. When I first began to promulgate my opinions I found that they appeared extravagant and even insane. In order to get a hearing it was necessary for me to attain the footing of a privileged lunatic with the license of a jester. Fortunately, the matter was very easy. I found that I had only to say with perfect simplicity what I seriously meant just as it struck me to make everybody laugh. My method is to take the utmost trouble to find the right thing to say, and then to say it with the utmost levity. And all the time the real joke is that I am in earnest.—New York Sun.

PROPOSE CIRCUS MAXIMS

The project to transform the Polo Grounds and Madison Field, together with the adjacent territory, into a great central home for sports of all descriptions contains alluring possibilities. Included in the scheme are a vast amphitheater, a baseball and football stadium, fields for polo and track athletics and arenas for horse and automobile shows, etc., with club-houses and stables of permanent construction. Boat-houses and landing-stages on the Harlem to provide access for motorboats and facilities for water sports are contemplated.

The burning of the grandstands at the Polo Grounds have emphasized the need of both a more adequate and a safer home for sports and spectacles. New York has the Olympian games, but no satisfactory amphitheater for them. While sport has been made a fetish and holidays consecrated to it, no care has been spent on its temples. Though even colleges have their stadia, the American metropolis, with a population of nearly 5,000,000, and an old Roman zest for contests of skill and strength, is forced to put up with makeshift facilities which would not have contented a third-rate city under the Caesars.

Certainly the dignity of the national game demands something better than tier-box grandstands. What the city requires is a Circus Maximus, and the project in question promises an eventual realization of the ideal. It needs a commodious central amusement point with accommodations for all forms of sport and with steel and concrete construction replacing wood. There is a great opportunity for some Hausmannian of athletics to effect the transformation.—New York World.

Mr. Taft's speech to the newspaper folk in New York Thursday night on reciprocity made a very profound impression on his audience, and should make an equally profound impression upon the thoughtful and really sincere people of the country. It was the speech of the statesman solicitous of his country's welfare, not the speech of the politician seeking votes for office.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

There is trouble at the High school. The senior A class, whose budding intelligence is about to be "on the threshold," to "take a glimpse into the future," and to discover that "there are no eggs in last year's nest," are in disgrace. They have been cheating in examination and were caught at it. Half of the class have confessed.

Talless Evans, chairman of the South Side Property Owners' Association, has appointed the following executive committee: Thomas Prather, Captain John T. Wright, A. W. Craig, W. S. Pelouze, George Roeth, Owen Laferriere and A. W. Burrell, Jr.

William H. Jordan has presented for probate the will of Tryphena Olmstead, who left an estate valued at $8605. The estate of Henrietta Cozad, deceased, has been appraised at $1800. In the estate of A. Hurnan, deceased, the court has awarded the heirs a family allowance of $100 per month.

O. K. Stampley today opened the new Park Hotel in Fourteenth street, opposite the city hall, and in the most convenient part of the city. There are accommodations for seventy-five guests, and the furnishings are elaborate and tasty.

Next Sunday T. G. Daniels, R. B. Tappan, J. E. Bland and J. E. Barker, of Alabama, will take a run to San Jose on their wheels.

The Acme Athletic Club held a suc-

CARNIVAL PLANS GOING AHEAD

The San Leandro Committee Refuses to Tell Leaders of Contest.

SAN LEANDRO, May 16. — Arrangements for the annual cherry carnival, to be held in San Leandro June 9 and 10, are almost completed and the committee in charge is resting. The contest for queen is going merrily along but the committee will not make known the contestants and the leaders as yet. Special inducements are to be made by the Board of Trustees for the appearance of fraternal and labor organizations in the parade line.

PREDICT BUMPER CROP OF PLEASANTON BEETS

PLEASANTON, May 16. — The sugar beet acreage around Pleasanton this year, which totals more than 2000 acres, is in good condition and all the indications point to one of the largest crops yet produced here. The low wet spots in the ground are being cared for now and before the week is out the seed will be sown on every foot of the large tract.

SAN LEANDRO BOYS' CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN

HAYWARD, May 16. — Next Saturday evening the members of the San Leandro Boys' Club will give their vaudeville show in Native Sons' hall. The same show, which made such a hit last year, is presented by the boys in San Leandro, on the occasion of their first anniversary, will be the treat offered to the local audience.

GEORGE GARCIA FALLS IN FAINT

Victim of Accident Suffers From Serious Internal Injuries.

HAYWARD, May 16. — George Garcia, one of the two men who narrowly escaped instant death Sunday when a motorcycle upon which they were riding was struck by a Southern Pacific train, was taken with severe pains in his right side last night while walking along Castro street, and before he had a chance to say a word he fell to the sidewalk in a faint. His wife and eldest son, who were with him, ran for assistance, and he was taken to the "Rest-a-While" hospital, where it was found necessary to perform an internal hemorrhage.

Mr. Thomas Jorgensen, who performed the operation, states that part of the tissues covering the lungs had been torn away by a fractured rib, sustained in the fall from the motor when it was struck by the train.

ELMHURST RESIDENT RETURNS FROM WORK AND MAKES GHOSTLY DISCOVERY

ELMHURST, May 16. — Upon entering his home last evening on his return from work in Alameda, Eugene Frances, colored, found his mother, Lydia Frances, lying dead on the kitchen floor. Frances, around the neighbors, who went to his assistance.

The body was removed to the Elmhurst branch morgue, where an inquest will be held. On a hurried examination, the cause of death was given as natural causes. The woman was about forty years old and a native of California.

FRUITVALE WOMEN TO ATTEND SESSION

FRUITVALE, May 16. — At a meeting of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Fruitvale Parlor No. 17, Miss Mabel Zimmerman and Miss Alice Wrenn were elected delegates to the grand convention which meets in Santa Cruz June 13. Marie Nagle and Rose Bonta were elected alternates.

Thursday evening, May 18, the members will give a necktie and apron party in Carpenters' hall.

GENUINE ECZEMA CURE

New Remedy That Cures the Eczema Quickly.

Osgood Bros. have sold hundreds of jars of Hokara in the last few weeks, and although they offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser, not one jar has been returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing to them is the reports of chronic cases of eczema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, sores and even bleeding itching have found relief and cure in Hokara.

No matter where the eczema pimples or other breaking out occurs, whether on the face, hands, legs or body, the application of Hokara will give quick relief, and even the worst or most chronic cases will be cured in a short time.

You can buy a liberal sized jar for 50c and with every package goes Osgood Bros. guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory. Larger size, 50c.

REBELS RUN RIOT IN PACHUCA

Defy Their Officers and Engage in Saturnalia of Pillage and License

Banks Are Dynamited, Saloons Sacked and the People Terrorized

MEXICO CITY, May 15. — Rioting and pillage occurred at Pachuca during the early hours of today, following the surrender of the city to the revolutionists. The rebels became drunk and defied their commanders. The towns people, in terror, barricaded their homes and remained concealed. The banks were dynamited and looted.

Pachuca is a mining city of 40,000 population. It is located sixty miles northwest of Mexico City, and fell into the hands of the revolutionists under Colonel Castrejon Sunday night. The capture was effected without fighting, the invaders swarming into the city from the surrounding hillsides and taking possession of the Government buildings without firing a shot.

There was no promise yesterday that order would be maintained, but when the Government authority had been replaced by that of the revolutionists, order gave way to license. Many of the rebels helped themselves liberally to the saloon supply last night and were soon out of control. The orders of their commanders were defied and they ran through the streets shooting promiscuously. The inhabitants were terror-stricken and hid in their homes, barring doors and windows.

RIOTERS LOOT BANKS.

The lawlessness took the form of robbery. Charges of dynamite were placed under the walls of the banks and exploded. Wherever entrance was effected the banks were looted. The rioters then turned their attention to the commercial houses, which were rifled of such of their stocks as the mob wished to carry away.

One of the first acts of the rioters was to force the doors of the jails and release the prisoners. Much of the subsequent lawlessness is attributed to the convicts thus set free.

There was a pitiable sight. Many buildings have been dynamited and others destroyed or damaged by fire. Later advices state that order has been partially restored in the city by 300 rebels under command of Gabriel Hernandez.

Three hundred federals are en route for the scene on special trains and a battle is imminent.

JUAREZ, May 16. — Upon the willingness of the Mexican government to grant to the insurgents permission to name members of the cabinet and the governors of fourteen of the twenty-seven Mexican states, depends the issue of restoring peace in Mexico. This proposition, a slight modification of the original offer of the rebels, which called for four portfolios of the cabinet, is the reply which was made today to the offer of the federal government of one cabinet member and ten governors as the price of peace.

The answer of the government is expected here tonight. Judge Carbajal has authority to arrange peace on the later basis, but in his talk with Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr. last night it was indicated to him that rebels must have at least three portfolios, and these should be all the important posts of minister of war, minister of justice, the department of justice and the department of the interior state administration of Mexico.

MAJORITY FOR GOVERNMENT.

The rebels feel that in yielding from four places to three, they are giving the government a majority of five in the cabinet, whereas hitherto they have insisted on equal strength there, and practically power to deadlock it on important measures. To the rebels the battle of Juarez, the rebels think they are displaying the highest generosity, for they now claim military possession of the states of Chihuahua and Sonora, as well as a firm hold on many of the others.

Judge Carbajal is believed to have offered the insurgents the portfolio of minister of public instruction, which they think of great importance to the country, but of practically no political significance. Once in control of the war department, the department of justice and the department of Gobernacion, they feel, too, that they will be able to reduce the country to tranquility in a comparatively short time.

WILL FORM PARTY.

The insurgents, immediately after peace is declared, will form a political party which probably will be called the "Progressive party." As soon as peace is completely restored and General Diaz follows out his intention of resigning, which insurgents believe will be in two or three months, the new party will devote itself to preparing for a national campaign. Undoubtedly Francisco I. Madero Jr. will be the candidate for president, while it is considered likely that Dr. Vasquez Gomez again will run for vice-president, as he did in the last election.

It is possible that Dr. Gomez will occupy one of the cabinet portfolios which may be given the rebels at the present time, but it is said he will later resign to become candidate for vice-president.

RECORDS DESTROYED.

The city of Pachuca is quiet this afternoon but business is at a standstill. All the banks have been wrecked, though the vaults are still intact. State records and other governmental documents have been burned.

The force of federal troops which was being rushed to Pachuca turned back this afternoon on orders from Mexico City. The rebels have imprisoned Governor Rodriguez and named Joaquin Guzman provisional governor. The rebels in their efforts to restore order killed 40 rioters.

Americans to Take Hand in the Battle if Shots Enter Nogales

NOGALES, Ariz., May 16. — That the falling of Mexican federal bullets in this city would save for the presence of a large body of United States troops, serve as a signal to many of its residents to take an active hand holding the people in restraint, and in the battle, is the belief of who know the state of the public mind. The general feeling is one of extreme bitterness, and has been inflamed by remarks credited to members of the garrison to the effect "that even if they should shoot into America's Nogales they would be shooting Maderistas anyway."

United States army officers here know that in the event of a battle they may have great difficulty in thus avoid what might become a serious international entanglement, and in order to make it known that they are prepared to take all necessary steps, Colonel Charles O'Connor said today:

MEXICAN ELEMENT HOSTILE.

Hostile acts on the part of the Mexican element of the population here most to be feared. Everywhere they could be seen assembled in groups watching through glasses the movements of the federal troops on the hills, and there is danger that should the latter seek refuge on the American side in the event of defeat they would be met by bullets from guns in the hands of their countrymen on this side of the line.

A Southern Pacific train arrived here late tonight, eight days from Guaymas. When it reached Hermosillo at noon yesterday the federal garrison of 400 men stationed there was entrained on cars standing on a siding awaiting a locomotive to haul them to Guaymas. This is undoubtedly the news conveyed in these dispatches yesterday that the rebels will be allowed to enter into peaceable possession of the capital.

GAMON FAMILY ESCAPES.

At the time the northbound train passed through, General Luis Torres, the military governor, had been on his way to the train. Additional evidence that danger of battle there has been averted is that there were no American refugees on the train which reached here, evidently having become assured that it would be safe for them to remain.

Guaymas is in hourly expectation of an attack. The burning of a bridge on the northern side of the city would cut off its inhabitants from escape by rail from Mexico, while the only way they can get away is by steamer to Mazatlan, and to take the chance of getting from that point to the Tehuantepec.

Among the Mexican refugees who reached here by the train last night were thirty members of the Gamon family of Hermosillo, owners of great landed estates. They abandoned thousands of acres of wheat just ready for harvesting.

Federals Strengthen Their Outposts East of City of Nogales

NOGALES, Mex., May 16. — The federals have strengthened their outposts to the east of Nogales. The nearest rebel force is a band of 300 Papagos Indians, which is encamped a little to the south. The whereabouts of Sabal's large force, which left Cananea soon after its capture, is unknown and if moving toward Nogales, is not likely to be located until within striking distance.

Thousands of cattle are crossing the line, shipped by the Alamo Cattle Company and consigned to California owners, their present destination being Calles, Ariz.

Altar, the last city occupied by government troops between this city and Hermosillo, has been abandoned to the rebels.

Southern Pacific train will leave here today for Guaymas unless Cabral's army should be reported as likely to interfere with its movement.

Chiapaz and Troops Slip Out of Nogales Enroute to South

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., May 16. — Commandante Francisco Chiapaz, with his 300 troops, one machine gun and 100 horses, taking advantage of the open communication to the south, slipped out of Nogales before dawn today on a special train bound for Hermosillo or Guaymas. This reduces the federal garrison in Nogales to less than 400 men, under General Ojeda.

Although the federals are still entrenched on the hills to the south and east, indications are that they are preparing to give up Nogales without a determined struggle.

ENTIRE COUNTY TO WELCOME THE VISITORS

Oakland and the Neighboring Cities Will Greet Commercial Travelers.

Alameda county is preparing to welcome the delegates of the twentieth annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers. Six hundred members from all parts of the Pacific Coast will attend the session. That formula, the exact quality of business and the proper quality of pleasure, which keeps Jack and all points to the southeast, including Mochizuma, but are open to Hermosillo and Guaymas.

"All Shot to Pieces," Randolph's Summary of S. P. Mexican Road

TUCSON, Ariz., May 16. — "All shot to pieces" is the phrase with which Colonel Epes Randolph summarized the condition of the Southern Pacific in Mexico when he returned today from a tour of inspection. He followed this statement, however, by saying that he hoped to have it in running order within two or three days. Three bridges are out on the line from Cananea and two gone to 300 miles to Guaymas, one of these at Liano and the other at Del Rio.

Colonel Randolph said the rebels had issued an ultimatum to the company that it should stop carrying federal troops all its lines would be put out of business, but said he could not comply with it, because the charter of the road requires the transportation of federal troops.

A detachment of United States Cavalry has been ordered to the international border, near Sertol, a town captured by the rebels a few days ago. It is said that another fight there is probable.

Rebels Assembling at Agua Prieta for Mexico City Attack

AGUA PRIETA, Mex., May 16. — The rebel garrison here now numbers close to 800 men. The commissary department has been organized with Mrs. McGregor, the wife of the rebel artillery officer, whose presence with the troops gave rise to the widow Talamantes myth.

The children, Colonel Giron arrived here today with 300 men. It is understood that the rebels plan to assemble their forces here and then, with Giron at their head, to move from here via Nogales for Guaymas, there to be loaded on boats to a point on the coast, and if peace has not been made they will be able to entrain for Mexico City.

The rebel artillery consists of four cannons, two of which were used in 1856 at Frontera by Colonel Angel Elias in a fight against the Indians. These cannons came near causing an international complication. In order to get them across the line, the engineer pulled the train on which they were loaded across the line and the question arose as to whether he should be allowed to take them back. After some parley and an examination of the cannon he was allowed to do so.

Madero to Isolate Federal Troops in the Lonesome Zone

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 16, via El Paso May 16. — News of the fall of Juarez has done much toward uniting all the scattered bands of insurgents in the states of Sonora, Durango, Zacatecas and Agua Caliente, envoys from Madero having reached most of the various insurgent leaders in these states, with directions to place themselves under the provisional president's direct command. In this way it is expected to put a stop to brigandage and looting, such as existed near Torreon and in Durango.

The scheme of organization, it was learned by an Associated Press correspondent, who visited some of the remote camps in the Chihuahua zone, extends as far south as Guadalupe. In that territory it is Madero's purpose to isolate as many of the federal troops as possible and to open up railroads and telegraph lines only when he is certain of their being controlled by the insurgents. No doubt exists here that this city is to be the next point of attack by the a bright boy, has been carefully observed. The officers of the local travelers' council predict that the efforts of the civic and commercial organizations will prove so successful that Oakland will take its place as one of the foremost convention cities in the United States.

Not only have the local organizations, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Exchange, unstintingly given their best, but people all over the county have rallied to make the events of Thursday, Friday and Saturday historic. Berkeley will entertain. So will San Leandro and Hayward. Oakland is to be arrayed in her most becoming attire.

BARBECUE PLANNED.

The most interesting feature of the three days' entertainment will be the barbecue at the Herman Schultes ranch at San Leandro, which is the terminal of the automobile excursion. This ranch is the old country estate known as the Marlin home. Ten acres of barley fields, sentinelled with locusts, oaks and pines, surround one of the most picturesque homes in the county. All sorts of entertainment has been planned for the barbecue.

The automobile excursion and parade, starting in front of the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, will give the visitors a chance to view the county. Local members will call attention to the fact that Alameda county is blessed with the concentrated virtues which have made California famous. The machines will travel through the business districts, will then go through the residential districts to the university grounds, and will return to Lake Merritt and out the boulevard to San Leandro and Hayward.

The party will be met by city officials of these suburban towns. Fred Schmidt, president of the San Leandro Board of Trustees, has arranged a reception for the visitors. Secretary Welch of the Hayward Board of Trade is in charge of the plans for that city. Cherties and other fruits packed in baskets will be given the delegates as souvenirs.

The program of the session begins with a caucus at the Crellin hotel Thursday afternoon. Promptly at 10 o'clock Friday morning the delegates will convene at the Pythian Castle. A luncheon will be served at noon at the Hotel St. Mark. During Friday evening the Order of Bagman will hold its annual jinks, later in the evening entertaining all of the delegates at a smoker.

HEADQUARTERS AT HOTEL.

The San Francisco delegation has chosen the Key Route Inn for its headquarters. Pennants and badges bearing the words "San Francisco, 1915," will be distributed.

Other delegations are commencing to arrive. A special Western Pacific train bringing Stockton and Sacramento members will come Thursday morning. Two specials will travel over the Southern Pacific, one from Los Angeles and the north and one from Sacramento and the north, and will get here about noon Thursday.

Wives and daughters who accompany delegates will be entertained by the families of local members. A committee has been appointed for this purpose. Theater parties and afternoon have been planned.

Altogether, Oakland is to prove its ability to entertain visitors. Chairman George A. Nissen and his assistants are sanguine as to results.

"You may say for me," he said this morning, "that we appreciate the assistance of those who have been so anxious and willing to help us. We have undertaken a heavy, but pleasant, task. Especially I wish to mention Mr. Dennison of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Theodore Gier. There are many others also who have made possible the success of the three days of the convention."

Disinens, vertigo, (blind staggers), salivary collection, flatulence are symptoms of a torpid liver. No one can feel well while the liver is inactive. HERBINE is a powerful liver stimulant. A dose or two will cause all bilious symptoms to disappear. Try it. Price 50c. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

STATE CALLED ON TO AID GREAT EXPOSITION

Committees Appointed to Visit Counties and Explain Opportunities.
PANAMA-PACIFIC HEADS HOLD SESSION
E. F. Delger and F. W. Marston Will Visit This Section.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The committee on ways and means of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at a meeting held yesterday afternoon appointed committees to go to each of the northern and central counties in California and present to their boards of supervisors the opportunities for the counties to exhibit their products in 1915. Later a similar campaign is to be waged in southern California, after a conference which is to be held in Los Angeles.

The last session of the legislature gave the supervisors of the different counties the power to levy a 1 cent tax for county exhibits. It has been estimated that even in the case of the less populous counties this will amount to a $50,000 fund. The outcome of yesterday's meeting in this connection is that each county board of supervisors will be visited by a committee of four of the representative men of this city, who may be also taxpayers of the county they visit.

MOORE PRESIDES.

Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition committee, presided and addressed the 150 or more committeemen present. After calling to mind the fact that this was the first meeting of this committee since the one that organized the exposition, he spoke briefly of what had since been accomplished in the way of organization, and promised that a site would soon be selected.

"The people throughout the state must realize," he said, "that this exposition is not only for the benefit of a few hotel owners and business men in San Francisco, but is primarily for the interior and rich land areas of California. San Francisco can only prosper through the prosperity of the back country, as the ranches are turned into grain fields and the grain fields into orchards. The exposition brings an opportunity to the counties of California that comes but once. Chicago had no such opportunity. Compared with our exposition that in Chicago was empty pomp and vanity, we are building for the whole west."

WEST INVITES WORLD.

F. W. Dohrmann suggested that the slogan "San Francisco invites the world" be changed to "The west invites the world."

It was reported that the counties of western Oregon were already planning for separate exhibits here in 1915, and that with adequate funds pledged to this purpose by the counties of California the several states of the nation could not well let their exhibits be less than those of the counties of the host state.

The sub-committees appointed for the county participation campaign are as follows:

INTEREST CENTERS IN PLANS OF NEW AUTOMOBILE PLANT FOR THIS CITY

The 2-Story Concrete Building on High Street, the Home of the New California Motor Car Co., Which Will Soon Be in Operation, Turning Out California Made Cars.

No announcement in recent years caused greater comment locally than that of the California Motor Car Company, the new quarter of a million dollar automobile manufacturing concern which is soon to be in operation in the plant on High street.

Even at this early date inquiries of all kinds are pouring into the Oakland and San Francisco offices of the company inquiring as to the price and construction of the car, about when operations are to be started, the different types of cars to be made and questions of all descriptions asked, showing, on all sides, that a decided interest is taken in the undertaking by the people around the bay.

It is strange, nevertheless true, that California, while running a close race with the State of New York for the lead in number of automobiles in use, has not had, in the last few years, any factories of importance for the manufacture of automobiles. In the southern part of California there is one in existence now which is turning out a number of cars every month.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED.

The co-operation and good will of every citizen should center itself behind this new company, working and boosting for its success. The eyes of the Eastern manufacturing world right now is centered on this section of the State, and each and every one of the big automobile manufacturers who have contemplated building factories out here will watch, in no small measure, the developments in the new local company.

Close to ten thousand cars will be distributed in California during 1911, provided the present rate of progress and sales continues.

In addition to all of the above advantages, there is one vital one, not to be overlooked, and that is, that employment will be offered to hundreds of skilled mechanics. One of the drawbacks in this county has been the lack of a variety of industrial enterprises. Fortunately, manufacturers are gradually being drawn to this section and each no time may be lost for getting the first month sees some new enterprise under way.

The plant of the new company, on High street, is unsurpassed for manufacturing purposes. The location is an ideal one, both the Southern and Western Pacific railroads passing on each side of it. Constructed of concrete, it is fireproof throughout; for light, it is featured by windows throughout.

A. J. Schram, designer, and one of the hardest workers for the success of the California Motor Company, stated last night that the first shipment of machinery now en route from the East will be here within two weeks. Upon its arrival preparations are to be made for its immediate installation in order that cars under way and finished.

BOY SCOUTS HERE ADOPT UNIFORM

Purposes of Organization Will Be Explained at Mass Meeting.

The official uniform of the Boy Scouts of America was adopted for the local scouts by the Oakland Council of Boy Scouts at its meeting last evening held in the city hall. The session was presided over by George E. Dickie, superintendent of Oakland playgrounds.

To interest welfare workers in the scout movement a mass meeting will be held in Chabot hall, May 23. On that occasion the cause will be championed by George E. Dickie, Rev. Alfred J. Case, pastor of the Centennial Methodist Episcopal church, and Professor Victor Lidga, organizer of the Boy Scouts of America.

According to a statement made by Superintendent Dickie, the names of 1600 boys will be enrolled on the Boy Scouts roster of this county before summer. Many hikes to the hills are being planned for the pleasure of the scouts.

Scout masters, ministers and principals of the schools will attend a banquet to be given by the Oakland Council of Boy Scouts, May 30. The place has not been decided upon.

VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT IS DEAD

Oscar Marshall, Retired Policeman of Stockton, Dies of Injuries.

STOCKTON, May 15.—Oscar Marshall, lifelong member of the police force and owner of valuable business property, died at the Emergency Hospital late yesterday from injuries sustained when his automobile turned turtle while running from Lockeford to Stockton several nights ago.

Marshall was pinned beneath the machine and evidently sustained internal injuries. He had showed such apparent improvement that plans were being made yesterday to remove him to his home, when he suddenly grew worse and passed away within two hours.

From early manhood until two years ago Marshall was on the Stockton police force. He had been on the retired list since 1909.

ATTORNEY DAVIS NOT DISBARRED

The Bar Association Grievance Committee Renders a Sort of Scotch Verdict.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The grievance committee of the San Francisco Bar Association at the last meeting of the organization reported that though the conduct of Attorney James A. Davis, accused of attempting to swindle Charles W. Antill of 725 Fifty-fifth street, Oakland, out of $12,500 worth of stock in the Bechill Window Company, was not becoming an attorney, it did not justify the disbarment of the accused lawyer. Following is the finding of the committee:

"The conduct of Davis was reprehensible in failing to give Antill notice of the service of the writ of execution, but that his conduct is not such as to warrant the bringing of disbarment proceedings."

The charges brought against Attorney Davis by Antill grew out of the former's failing to notify Antill of a writ of execution filed against Antill's stock in the Bechill Window Company relative to a judgment.

At the time Davis was a shareholder in the window concern and was acting as legal adviser to Antill. According to the latter, Davis got hold of $12,500 worth of stock for $25 and declared that not he, but his brother-in-law, had put through the deal.

Antill, who is vice president of the Antill Patent Window Casing Company, with offices in the Foxcroft building, this morning declared his intention of taking the matter before the grand jury in an effort to have Davis disbarred.

FREE LUNCH BILL GOES A BEGGING

Measure Aimed at Saloons Finds No Spot on Which to Rest.

"Councilman Cobbledick's pet bill to prohibit persons conducting saloons from keeping and maintaining free lunch counters is having a venture-some career. Up before the ordinance and judiciary committee of the city council on last Thursday night, where it was a bone of great contention, it has now been referred back to that committee again by the council as a whole in its meeting of last night.

The ordinance was supported by the restaurant men of Oakland when first brought before the committee on Thursday. Councilman Cobbledick, father of the bill, was not on hand, however, to stand up for it, and the councilmen among themselves were divided as to its merits. So it was referred without recommendation by the committee to the council sitting as a whole, to be acted upon last night. But there more disagreements ensued, and the proposed ordinance was sent on another journey, this time back to the ordinance and judiciary committee, once more without recommendation.

MRS. NEWLYWED WITH 'SNOOKUMS'

At The Bell This Week

MRS. NEWLYWED and SNOOKUMS, who figure in Trovello's Act.

Trovello is the premier vaudeville ventriloquist. It was he who first introduced the use of the funny mechanical mannikins now so much in vogue by all ventriloquists.

The humorous happenings attendant upon a breakdown in a motor trip furnish the basis for the act by the premier ventriloquist Trovello at the Bell theater this week. Trovello is one of the most prolific producers of scenic ventriloquist acts. It is said that no ventriloquist in the business has the control over lips and throat muscles that Trovello has developed, even the powerful rays of the spot light failing to expose a single muscular movement while he is working his hardest. The act is replete with comedy and keeps one interested at all times.

TOWN DESERTED; REBELS TO ATTACK

Ciudad Porfirio Diaz Is Due to Fall Into Insurrecto Hands.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., May 15.—Deserted by its chief officials, Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, across the Rio Grande from here, is awaiting a rebel attack said to be scheduled for tonight. No resistance will be made, according to the commander of the handful of federals. Crowds of Mexicans streamed across the border today into Eagle Pass, bringing their families. Lieutenant Mariano D. Alvarez of the Mexican army stationed at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz and Miguel de La Fuente, band-master there, deserted today and came here.

Colonel Pena, who is in charge of the Ciudad Porfirio Diaz garrison and still remains at his post, is reported to have said that if the rebels came he would endeavor to escape with his soldiers to Las Vacas and, failing in that, would surrender.

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

MISS CHARLOTTE HALL and James R. Kenna will be married tonight at 8:30 o'clock in a bower of pink roses at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Samuel P. Hall, on Fourteenth street. Rev. W. D. Simonds of the First Unitarian Church will officiate. Sixty-five guests, including the relatives and close friends of the couple, will witness the ceremony.

The bride will be of heavy white satin, embroidered in pearls and silk flowers and worn with the long wedding veil, which will be caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride's bouquet will be of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Hall, will wear white lace over white mesaline and will carry an armful of white roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Priscilla and Miss Alice Hall, will wear pale pink with over-edges of lace and will carry white roses.

Little Miss Nathalie Hall will be the flower girl. She will wear a dainty frock of white lace.

The best man will be Dr. Channing Hall and the ribbon bearers Chaffee Hall, Anthony Camenitti, Sherry Walker and Dr. Pupper.

The Hall home will be decorated in masses of pink roses, mingled with sweet peas and filmy bows of tulle. The wedding is a social event as both bride and bridegroom are prominent members of the smart set of this city. Miss Hall is very handsome and a belle of the bay cities. Many socially prominent folk will attend her wedding.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

MOTHER SAVES BABIES FROM PANTHER

Flees With Children in Arms When Hungry Beast Gives Chase.

UKLIAH, May 16.—Thomas Jeffries has lost his goat, also two fine young Berkshire pigs which he had recently received from the east. It all happened when an old panther and her two cubs visited the Jeffries ranch and made a meal of the goat and the young swine. Jeffries, who owns a large ranch near Orr's Springs, left home early this morning to work on the road, leaving his wife and their two little daughters at home alone. Shortly after noon she and the children went out to feed the small prize pigs, and when she reached the yard in which they were kept, she was terrified by seeing a large panther leap from behind a bush and spring toward her, closely followed by two cubs. Seizing the children in her arms, the mother fled to the house, closely pursued by the ferocious California lion. They reached the house safely and she slammed the door shut in the face of the unwelcome guest.

After walking across the porch several times in search of an entrance, the angry panther espied the goat near the house and after a race through the barnyard and into the chicken-house she grabbed it by the throat and carried it to her den. "No panther satisfied with their meal the panther began another search for food and killed the two pigs, carrying one to each of her cubs. Having satisfied their appetites they lingered round the house a few minutes and then disappeared in the redwoods nearby.

Bar Sealed Complaints

RENO, Nev., May 16.—Judges Orr and Moran, who sit in the second judicial district, which is Reno, late yesterday entered an order forbidding the further sealing of complaints in all civil actions. The new ruling is the answer of the court to County Clerk Foggy, who asked specifically what attitude he should adopt in reference to divorce complaints.

The local press has waged a bitter fight against the custom of concealing divorce papers within a sealed envelope, contending that the practice opened the way to fraud upon the defendant in these suits. The order says that the records must be left open both before the case is heard and afterward.

The county clerk, however, while abiding by the judges' order, will adhere also to the opinion of District Attorney Woodburn, given Saturday, and will decline to permit any but persons directly interested in the actions to see the papers in connection with them.

Burned Wife's Home

SANTA ROSA, May 16.—Joseph Hartzell, the man who set fire to his wife's residence at Fulton and destroyed the property, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment at San Quentin yesterday morning by Judge Dunne. Hartzell is one of the hardest-working men in this county, and when not drinking was an exemplary citizen. During the superior court session last January with his wife, Mary Hartzell, he began to imbibed large quantities of liquors and was arrested. He secured his liberty under an agreement by which he was to receive $400 or $500 from his wife, and in turn deeded her their community property. Later he went to the place and, after driving the family away, he poured oil on the house and applied the match. The structure, together with the barn and out-houses, was destroyed.

Girl Slaps Clown

CHICO, May 16.—A circus clown, in amusing the crowd along Broadway as the parade passed yesterday, stepped close to a pretty normal school girl and threw her a kiss. She swung her handbag against his nose with such force that blood spurted forth. He staggered back, almost losing his balance.

Must Show Children

PORTLAND, May 16.—"Let the talking come from the San Francisco end," said Albert Sutton, no wa' resident of Hood River but formerly a prominent architect in San Francisco, where his former wife is endeavoring to secure possession of a daughter who is now in father's care. Sutton admitted he had received orders from the superior court of California to produce in the California courts his children by a former marriage, but he could not be induced to make comments.

Sutton is the owner of a 320 acre fruit ranch in the Hood river valley and has recently erected a residence of hewn logs which is one of the costliest and handsomest country homes in the valley. He has become active in business circles since he came here and he is a member of the board of governors of the Hood River University club.

Pays for Speeding

REDWOOD CITY, May 16.—Miss Myra Josselyn of Woodside, who was arrested for racing her automobile, pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Heber W. Lamplink yesterday morning and was fined $25.

Kills Husband to Keep Him Home

AMERICAN IS QUEEN'S ESCORT

Queen of Italy, Accompanied by Ambassador Leishman of the United States.

ROME, May 16.—A photograph of the American Ambassador to Italy, J. C. A. Leishman, and the Queen of Italy is exciting interest here. It was made at the inauguration of the American pavilion at the exhibition in Rome. There was considerable dissatisfaction among Americans at the long delay in getting the United States pavilion in order. No particular person is to blame as it was rather the fault of the United States government for the appropriation is scarcely one-third that allowed by other countries for their pavilions. The exhibition did credit to the architects and the pictures show to the best advantage.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS; SHE BEGS DOCTORS TO KILL HER

NEW YORK.—Because her life has been saved in spite of her own efforts to commit suicide, a comely girl of nineteen, who gave the fictitious name of Esther Friedman, No. 90 East Eighth street, lies in Lincoln Hospital suffering from a heavy dose of poison and begging the physicians to end her unhappy life with the knife.

Thousands along both sides of One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street saw the girl stagger out upon the car tracks, reeling from the effects of the poison, and deliberately throw herself on the rails before a cross-town car which was speeding toward her and not more than twenty feet away.

It was only the prompt action of Motorman John Tully in setting his brakes that saved the girl from death. The crowds gasped with the horror of the situation as the car came to a grinding stop almost touching the body. Police-men from the Alexander avenue station directly opposite lifted the girl from the tracks and summoned the ambulance.

Investigation by Dr. Moench of Lincoln Hospital disclosed the fact that the girl had not only suffered a severe cut on the head when she threw herself across the rails, but also that she had swallowed a large dose of poison. The doctor recovered three partly dissolved tablets of bi-chlorate of mercury, each containing seven and a half grains and strong enough to kill twenty persons, when allowed to take full effect. In her dress was found later an unlabeled bottle containing fifteen other tablets of the same kind. Her life was saved the second time by Dr. Moench.

On regaining consciousness, three hours later, the girl seemed to have lost her mind, and stared with blank eyes at her surroundings. The instant she did understand she was still living, she covered her face with her hands and sobbed. Later she upbraided the nurses for attending her, and begged the doctor to "put her out of the way."

FATHER DIED ON CAR TRACKS.

"I don't want to live," she said, "I have tried so hard to die. There is nothing left this side of Heaven for me. Oh, why do you try to keep me here on earth? Why didn't they let me die there on the car tracks just as my poor father died two months ago?"

When she recovered her composure the girl explained that her mother had died a year previous and her father had been killed by an interurban trolley car. She said she had been employed in an embroidery shop as a braider. Doctors at the hospital are sure she will recover.

Letters Revealed Man's Plan to Leave Wife.

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Frances O'Shaughnessy, a frail slip of a woman, 24 years old, and over from Ireland only since September, 1909, shot her husband, George, in the heart. As the body lay half on the bed and half hanging over the side she kissed the lips, then walked out of their room at 83 East One Hundred and Thirtieth street. At One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street and Third avenue she met Patrolman Charles Clerke of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street police station, and calmly said to him: "I've killed my husband and want you to take me where I'll be punished."

Sitting by the side of Bridget Marren, the gray-haired matron of the police station, Mrs. O'Shaughnessy told the story of her few months of happiness, her few weeks of anguish after she learned her husband loved another; her few hours of doubt whether she should not kill herself, then the killing of him, and the climax of the kiss upon the cooling lips of him who was even then the sole object of her love.

"We had planned to go back to Ireland," she said, "and I'd been saving up for the fare, for we wanted the child that was to come to be true Irish. Then, too, I wanted to get him away from me. I thought if only I could get him back to the green hills his love would return to me."

"I'd known for two weeks that things were not right, and last night when he came home I saw him put a bundle of letters under his pillow. After he'd left the house this morning I found the letters there. Some I saved and some I burned, for they were not letters that a wife could read or let any one else read."

"I had cried all night, for though he had promised me he'd come to me in England I felt that that other woman still held him. This morning, by her letters, I found he'd planned to come to me in England, desert me and return to the woman here."

"I determined to kill myself. Once I thought of killing him, but then I knew that my own life would be nothing without him. But to kill your own self is a mortal sin, and Mrs. Caroline Gayer, my landlady, told me to keep right on and try to help him."

"After breakfast I went to the home of Mrs. Simeon Ford at 43 West Seventy-fourth street, where I used to work. They let me go upstairs to see Mrs. Ford and I remembered the bureau where a revolver was always kept. I went in and slipped the revolver into my bag and then I saw Mrs. Ford."

"When I got home George asked me if I'd found his letters. I told him I had and asked him if what they told was all true. He said it was and I need never hope to see him again, as he was going away with the other woman."

"I thought of the never-ending purgatory if I shot myself; then I thought that if I killed him I might be forgiven in time, and anyway I could pay the punishment of God. I pulled the pistol out of my bag and shot him. He fell back on the bed. I kissed him and went out to find a policeman."

"I want to be punished what I did, and I want the punishment to come before the child does."

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST FALLS DEAD IN RENO

RENO, Nev., May 16.—The reading room of the local headquarters of the Christian Science Church was the scene of excitement, late yesterday, when Miss Kate M. Warner, a well-known reader and cousin of Mrs. Florence L. Kent, the Chicago practitioner, fell from the chair in which she was sitting, chatting with a sister church woman, and died almost instantly. She spoke no parting word. Friends rushed to her assistance, horror-stricken, but she was already beyond human aid.

Miss Warner came to Reno nearly two years ago from Marinette, Wis.

PROF. HENRY LORD WHEELER RESIGNS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 16.—At a meeting of the Yale corporation yesterday the resignation of Henry Lord Wheeler, professor of organic chemistry in Sheffield science school, was presented. The corporation voted as usual in such cases to let the resignation go over to the next meeting, when action will be taken upon it.

According to the announcement of Secretary Stokes last night, Professor Wheeler will not in the meantime exercise his functions as a professor at the university. The wife of Professor Wheeler secured a divorce from him in this city last Friday on grounds of intolerable cruelty, receiving alimony amounting to $100,000.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

STUDENTS REHEARSE FOR 'CABINET MINISTER'

"The Cabinet Minister," a four-act comedy, will be presented by the senior class of the Oakland High school Monday evening, May 22, in the Macdonough theater, where members of the student body will attend on mass.

Vere Hunter, a graduate of the University of California, has been working hard for the success of the play. The cast has been holding from two to three rehearsals a week in preparation for the show. The young players will hold their final dress rehearsal at the Macdonough theater on Monday morning.

Rae Wilson as Sir Julian Twombly, Cornelius Hatch as Valentine White, Margaret Mitchell as Lady Twombly and Ruth Pond as Lady Euphemia Valbart will take the leading parts in the play. The cast for the play will be as follows: Sir Julian Twombly, Rae Wilson; Herbert Turrell, Mr. Melton; Robert Brooke Twombly, Kenneth Elvart; Earl of Drumdurris, Arthur Cunningham; Sir Colin McPhail, Walter Edwards; Valentine White, Cornelius Hatch; Joseph Lebanon, Henry Petry; The Munkidrick, Margaret Mitchell; Lady Euphemia Valbart, Ruth Pond; Lady McPhail, Miss Mary Ames; Miss Gayluster, Miss Mildred McNeil; Miss Munkidrick, Miss Mabel Griffin, and Angie, Miss Margaret Crowther.

CLEVER AMATEUR WINS APPLAUSE

MISS ZELDA VIEIRA, who is a talented young performer of Hayward.

HAYWARD, May 16.—Among the talented amateur performers who are winning applause here in vaudeville lines is Miss Zelma Vieira. Frequently she has appeared behind the footlights in clever roles, portraying juvenile characters. She is much sought after in theatrical circles and is very popular with the actor-folk.

The love of money may be the root of all evil, but the love of baseball produces more rooters.

CHORAL CLUB TO SING TUNEFUL CANTATA

With a chorus of fifty voices, the Grant Girls' Choral Club will present a cantata entitled "The Flower Queen," at the graduation exercises of the school, June 2, in the Assembly hall. The production will be given under the direction of Miss Z. W. Potter, founder of the club. The principals in the performance will be Helen Nelson, queen; Grace Ziegenfuss and Thelma Roehl, attendants; Nellie Gray, Fantine, and Bernice Daily, Stella.

The singers in the chorus have been divided as follows:

INCENDIARY TRIES TO BURN BIG HAYWARD MANSION

SCANTILY-CLAD WOMEN HELP FIGHT FIRE

Bucket Brigade in "Nighties" Conquers Blaze After Long Fight.

Millionaire Lumberman Stands Guard to Prevent Second Attempt.

HAYWARD, May 16.—An unidentified person set fire to the new residence of W. J. Connors, a millionaire lumberman of British Columbia, last night and would have had the satisfaction of seeing it totally destroyed had it not been for the prompt action of the neighbors who formed a bucket brigade and extinguished the flames before they had a chance to spread from the rear of the handsome structure.

The fire was first noticed by a neighbor, who aroused all the residents in the community. Men and women in scanty night attire formed a line and passed buckets of water from hand to hand for well over an hour in the immediate vicinity. After a long fight, the brigade conquered.

Connors, who was living at the Hayward hotel, arrived at the scene after the fire had been extinguished. On close examination he found that a pile of kindling and wood shavings had been piled in one corner of the kitchen and saturated with oil. He took up his post at the building and stayed there all night for fear that another attempt would be made to burn it.

Constable Rammage refuses to make any statement at the present time, but it is believed that he will make an arrest before long.

SEEK MEN TO HEAD ARMY DIVISIONS

Major - Generals Sought for New Commands of U. S. Forces.

Franklin Bell Will Retain the Command in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—In execution of the project of the re-establishment of the great army divisions, the War Department is considering the selection of the commanding officers who are to be major generals wherever possible. The divisional officers will give attention to the purely military business, leaving the administrative details. The object is to develop officers capable of handling great army units.

There is at present but one division, that of the Philippines. Major General Franklin Bell presumably will retain that command. Three new divisions will be entirely within the United States.

At New York a major general will make his headquarters on Governor's Island, commanding the Eastern division, while the Department of the East will be in command of a brigadier at Fort Totten, in New York harbor. The command of the Gulf will remain in Atlanta.

CENTRAL HEADQUARTERS.

The headquarters of the Central division will be Chicago, with brigadier generals or colonels in command of the departments of the lakes, the Missouri and Texas, at St. Paul, St. Louis and San Antonio, respectively. The existing departments of Colorado and Dakota will be merged into these three departments. The headquarters of the Western division will be San Francisco, the Department of California making headquarters at the Presidio and the Department of Columbia at Vancouver barracks, Washington. The change will go into effect July 1.

Wealthy Mining Man Is Sent to Island

Christopher Schneider Must Answer to Charge of Smuggling Opium.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Christopher Schneider, reputed to be a wealthy mining man, indicted on three counts by the grand jury of Hawaii for smuggling opium, and captured here as he was leaving a steamer last week, had his preliminary examination today. He was ordered sent to the islands for trial, and will leave this afternoon in charge of Deputy Marshall Fitzgerald.

BOSTON, May 16.—Mrs. Elizabeth Barta, arriving in Boston on the steamer Barquette from Antwerp, was handed a sheaf of telegrams at the pier, saying that her father, a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, was dead, her mother dying and her son in precarious condition at San Diego. She took the first train for the boy's bedside.

LIKE 'MARKS THE LAWYER' BANNON HAD BUT 75c

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Patrick Bannon, a brother of "Lefty" Bannon, well known in the police court, appeared in his brother's usual haunts this morning in connection with a fracas at the "old horse" sale of Wells Fargo & Company yesterday. Bannon, according to witnesses, bought in everything in sight of nine members, to be elected by the cents on his person. When he was taken to task he created a disturbance and was arrested.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 13; via El Paso, May 16.—Eduardo Hay, member of a prominent family in Mexico City, and an insurrecto leader who was captured at Casas Grandes on March 6, escaped from the hospital here and has rejoined the revolutionary party.

Hay was one of the most active leaders in the early stages of the revolutionary movement. Madero made him a lieutenant-colonel. In the battle at Casas Grandes he was wounded five times and left for dead. He was taken prisoner when he revived.

On the march to Chihuahua he was given charge of the fourteen American prisoners. His popularity and prominence created great interest in Chihuahua, and instead of being placed in the penitentiary he was allowed to remain at the hospital. By gaining the confidence of the inmates at the hospital, Hay was allowed unusual liberty. His escape was effected by pretending to walk in the garden for recreation. At an opportune moment he boldly dashed out into the mountains.

GREEK THEATER PLEASES DISTINGUISHED THESPIAN

E. H. Sothern Is Anxious to Play Again

(By E. H. SOTHERN.)

LAST night's production of Macbeth at the Greek Theater was one of the most interesting and yet difficult experiences of my career. Although I have always wanted very much to play at the Greek Theater, and although I shall certainly, if possible, appear there again, I cannot say that I personally enjoyed the experience as I was so filled with anxiety for the welfare of my company and so anxious that the audience would lose none of the play that I had no time to determine as to exactly what my own feelings were and could think only of the necessity for making the production a success.

DELIGHTED WITH EXPERIENCE.

I am glad that the audience enjoyed our presentation and I am glad, now that none of us suffered any ill-effects from the cold night air, that we were permitted to play in this beautiful Greek Theater, where, on a summer moonlight night I should think the conditions for a production would be ideal.

Miss Marlowe says she wants to return and play on just such an evening in summer, when the weather is warm and balmy, and certainly we will both endeavor to appear there again. It was by the courtesy of Mr. Cort that we were allowed last evening's presentation. When we were asked by the committee of the university to play, Miss Marlowe and I consulted together as to whether it would be advisable. But, as Macbeth was the play asked for, and as that, of all Shakespeare's plays, was most adaptable to outdoor presentation, we decided that we would accept, provided Mr. Cort was willing. He very graciously gave up the night which was to have been given to the Savoy theater in San Francisco; and we were allowed the privilege of appearing in this magnificent theater.

FIRST OPEN AIR PRODUCTION.

It was a new experience; neither of us had ever appeared in an open air production before. We naturally felt strange without the scenic accessories about us. The conditions were extremely unusual, the distances were four times as great as those to which we had been accustomed, and it was necessary for us to have a long rehearsal in the afternoon to arrange for the production.

I was satisfied when I saw how successfully the plays are put on at Oberammergau, that it would be possible to put on Macbeth in the open air, and my remembrance of that presentation gave me courage to do it. The Greek Theater is extremely interesting and the principal thing I found it necessary to impress upon my company was the gauging of sound and distances. We tested this in the afternoon and I discovered that it was necessary that the final consonants be sounded with emphasis in order that they would carry. Whether they did or not I do not know.

PREPARED FOR COLD.

My, but it was cold. Certainly the night was against us. However, I prepared for it. I didn't want to be responsible for my actors catching pneumonia. I went out and bought heavy underwear for all of them. I purchased a lot of chest protectors for them and I arranged to have four hundred cups of coffee served to them, because, you know, when a man's stomach is warm he is fairly safe. Occasionally I saw an actor run out for a cup of coffee and gulp it down as he was making his entrance.

One thing that we found difficult was the excessive amount of room on the stage. Where a man would run in like a messenger, for instance, he would have to sprint thirty yards. Again, when in the scene of the battle, where two men would fight on the wall in our production, and disappear into the castle, they were forced to keep up the contest for fifty yards across the stage, and this had the effect of being comic and caused much laughter from the audience.

Although there were two hundred persons on the stage, they seemed but a handful in this mammoth theater.

ONE PROBLEM WHICH WE SOLVED.

One problem which we solved, I think, most successfully, and as I understand it, we were the originators of the idea, was that of the methods of changing scenes. There are many different scenes in Macbeth and we wondered when we had formed a picture how we could shift into the next scene without forcing the dead men to get up and walk off the stage. We managed this by arranging the lights so that in a moment the stage became dark and it was as though a curtain had fallen in front of us. The audience could see nothing, and in this manner the change of scenes was easily and well indicated.

E. H. SOTHERN, who played at the Greek Theater last night before an audience of 6000. The portrait shows him in the role of Sir Richard Lovelace. The play in which he appeared last night was Macbeth.

MAY PLAY AGAIN.

For the production of a play at the Greek Theater the locale should be simple. It is peculiarly well adapted, of course, to Greek productions, but I should think such plays as the "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "As You Like It" would go very well there. Miss Marlowe wants to play "Romeo and Juliet" there, but I don't see just how the balcony could be arranged. That might be easily fixed, however, and possibly she will have her chance.

IMMENSE AUDIENCE WITNESSES 'MACBETH' IN THE GREEK THEATER

BERKELEY, May 16.—A chilly night did not seem to interfere with the attendance at the Greek Theater last night, when another chapter was added to the history of the open-air playhouse with the production of "Macbeth" by E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe. Six thousand persons from both sides of the bay followed the tragedy to its climax and fatal ending.

In intellectual rendition of the famous roles was given by both principals. The stage effects the production appeared to excel that of "Antigone," in which Margaret Anglin appeared.

It was the first time either Sothern or Marlowe had been seen around the bay as the hapless cousin of King Duncan and Lady Macbeth. The tragedy will be repeated in San Francisco tonight.

The music last night by Sir Arthur Sullivan, played by a large orchestra hidden from sight, was a delightful feature of the performance. A second star of the capable company is Rowland Buckstone.

Insurrecto Leader Makes His Escape and Rejoins the Revolutionists.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 13; via El Paso, May 16.—Eduardo Hay, member of a prominent family in Mexico City, and an insurrecto leader who was captured at Casas Grandes on March 6, escaped from the hospital here and has rejoined the revolutionary party.

Experience Was Novel and Pleasant

of changing scenes. There are many different scenes in Macbeth and we wondered when we had formed a picture how we could shift into the next scene without forcing the dead men to get up and walk off the stage. We managed this by arranging the lights so that in a moment the stage became dark and it was as though a curtain had fallen in front of us. The audience could see nothing, and in this manner the change of scenes was easily and well indicated.

I was somewhat puzzled as to what to do about the exits, but I imagined that when an actor passed out of the circle of light he was presumed to have left the stage. It sometimes happened that when a man left on one side he was expected to re-enter almost immediately on the other and he ran around to arrive at the other side breathless. Perhaps we should have provided bicycles for this emergency.

But the end justified the means, and while I feared I might lose my voice with the cold draughts of air which burst in upon us, I find that I am all right this morning.

FORM BUILDING ASSOCIATION

At a special meeting of the building committee of the Chamber of Commerce this morning it was decided to incorporate a Chamber of Commerce Building Association under the laws of California and to acquire the lot and two-story stone structure on the corner of Thirteenth and Harrison streets for the new home of the organization. Charles Snook, attorney for the Chamber of Commerce, will draw up the necessary papers in legal form, and the selling of stock in the project will be commenced. The property will be bought from the Harrison Realty Company through the Laysan Real Estate Company, for a consideration of $18,000. The Chamber of Commerce is already virtually in possession of the property.

JULIUS ABRAHAMSON IS CHAIRMAN OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE.

The others on the committee are as follows: C. F. Gorman, F. J. Woodward, J. Y. Eccleston, W. J. Laysan and George E. Randolph.

It is the plan of the Chamber to build a lofty Chamber of Commerce building within the next few years, using the present structure on the corner of Harrison and Thirteenth streets as a foundation. As the lease is up on the present home of the Chamber on Twelfth street, the organization expects to start moving very soon.

GRACE GILBERT CASE IS DISMISSED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Grace Gilbert, the woman who refused to be treated at the municipal clinic, who was arrested for vagrancy and whose case, attracting the attention of Carroll Cook, starting the sensational investigation culminating in the indictment of Detective Sergeant Fanning, was dismissed by Judge Treadwell today.

The Gilbert woman was charged with vagrancy and being the inmate of a disorderly house, and it was when she appeared in answer to that accusation on the first occasion that Judge Cook protested against the compulsory examination of women by the board of health and started the contest with Dr. Eaton.

MARGARET E. LEE SENT TO ASYLUM

Margaret E. Lee, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Lee of 680 Sixty-first avenue, was committed this forenoon by Superior Judge Harris to the insane asylum at Napa. Among the witnesses who appeared against her was George W. Nelson, her brother-in-law. He was subpoenaed in the case but failed to respond to the summons "because he had other business." Judge Harris sent a deputy sheriff after him and when he was brought in the court fined him $20 for contempt.

MISS FAY MCKEE AND D. D. OLIPHANT TO WED

BIG DIRIGIBLE WRECKED ON BUILDING

Airship Crashes on Its Own Shed When Heavy Wind Strikes.

EIGHT PASSENGERS SAVED UNINJURED

Sixth of Zeppelin's Famous Crafts Is Totally Destroyed.

DUSSELDORF, Rhinish Prussia, May 16.—After a career of six weeks, the Deutschland, latest of Count Zeppelin's ill-fated dirigible balloons, stranded today on the roof of its shed, a total wreck. The crew and passengers escaped uninjured.

The accident occurred as the Deutschland was being released for a passenger trip. Eight passengers, four men and four women, had seated themselves in the cabin, the crew were at their posts and 200 men on the ground clinging to the guide ropes as the powerful craft slowly emerged from its berth, and under pressure of over half a million cubic feet of gas struggled to be free.

Just as the airship cleared the shed a violent gust of wind drove it back against the entrance. At the impact several of the balloonettes burst and the released gas destroyed the craft's equilibrium.

The airship dropped on the roof of the shed, its back broken and the hull dangling over one edge.

A fire brigade, hurriedly summoned to the scene, ran a ladder to the top of the balloon shed and pulled passengers and crew out of the wreck.

The Deutschland was built to replace in the passenger airship service the earlier craft of the same name which came to its end in the Teutoburgian forest on June 28 last.

Today's was the sixth serious accident which has befallen the Zeppelin dirigibles.

MRS. JENNISON MAY GIVE UP FIGHT

Validity of Colorado Divorce Said to Have Been Recognized.

Woman to Demand Privilege of Visits to Her Child.

Developments today in the bitter legal battle between Frank E. Jennison of San Francisco and his divorced wife, Elizabeth D. Jennison of Bargar, Me., for the permanent custody and control of Alice E. Jennison, their 13-year-old daughter, who is a student in the College of the Holy Names of this city, indicate that the mother has given up the fight.

This morning Attorney W. F. Williamson of San Francisco, representing Jennison, filed in the latter's behalf in the probate department of the Superior Court, a petition for his appointment as guardian of the little girl, and this matter will be heard by Judge Everett J. Brown on May 26. Pending its disposition Judge N. D. Arnot of El Dorado county, by whom Mrs. Jennison's petition for a writ of habeas corpus was heard yesterday morning, in the auxiliary department of the Superior Court, has agreed to withhold his decision upon a representation made to him today that Mrs. Jennison is willing to let the matter drop if an arrangement can be made with Jennison that will permit her to see the child occasionally.

RECOGNIZE DIVORCE.

It is understood that Attorney William Smith of San Francisco, representing Mrs. Jennison, has admitted the validity and authority of the decree of divorce granted to Jennison in the county of Teller, Colorado, which gave to him the custody of the little girl, and this is borne out by the fact that the woman's lawyer failed to file his authorities with the court in support of his argument that the Colorado divorce court's order did not have extra-territorial jurisdiction, which he agreed to do yesterday before night.

Accompanying Jennison's petition for appointment as guardian of his daughter was an application to Judge Arnot for an order appointing Sister Mary Bertha, superior of the convent and college of the Holy Names, temporary guardian of the child, which was granted. In making the order Judge Arnot specifically set forth that "nobody shall interfere with the care or custody of the said Sister Superior" until otherwise ordered by the court.

ACCUSES WOMAN.

Jennison's petition for guardianship is couched in the usual legal verbiage with reference to the subject matter and in addition charges that Mrs. Jennison is not a fit and proper person to have the care of the child or to associate with her for the reason that she "is a person of immoral, dissolute and intemperate life, character and habits." On this ground Jennison will fight for the child if the guardianship matter is contested, and when that matter is called up by Judge Brown the petitioner will have a dozen witnesses present to testify as to the alleged delinquency of Mrs. Jennison.

BERKELEY UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA ALAMEDA

CONSIDER PLANS FOR TIDAL CANAL

Government Harbor Line Board Convenes in the Encinal City.

ALAMEDA, May 15.—Colonel John Biddle, government engineer of the United States war department, presided over an open meeting held in Alameda this morning relative to the deepening and widening of the tidal canal.

The engineer's office was also represented by Lieutenant C. F. Lead and Major S. H. Phenoxy. The Alameda Harbor commission was represented by Carl Rhodin, J. R. Christy, Herman Krueger and George E. Plummer.

City Engineer L. N. Chapman and William Hammond Jr., chairman of the public utilities committee of the city council, represented the city.

Captain Fortman, president of the Alaska Packers' company, and Captain J. S. Moser of the Alaska Packers, were in attendance.

Captain Moser stated that the Alaska Packers wanted the pier line fronting the property of the company moved to coincide with the bulkhead line which would enable the company to fill in directly in back of this line.

DEEP WATER VESSELS.

J. R. Christy of the United Engineering Works stated that his company wanted the channel widened in front of its plant for deep water vessels. Captain Engineer L. N. Chapman asked that two angles at the foot of Grand street be moved to coincide with the pier line, which is continuous along the entire length of the Grand street frontage owned by the city.

Plans were under consideration in explaining the widening of the channel to the engineer's in attendance.

EPWORTH LEAGUE IS MEETING IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, May 15.—The Alameda County Epworth League alliance will hold a rally this evening in the First Methodist church of this city. Dr. C. B. Berkeley Society

BERKELEY, May 15.—Later in the season Mrs. J. Woodward is expecting her sister, Mrs. Henry Martin of Los Angeles to be her guest in Berkeley. Mrs. Martin gave a dramatic interpretation of a series of living pictures from Tennyson's "Idylls of the King" before the California Federation of Women's clubs Saturday evening in session at Long Beach.

Miss Dorothy Peterson of Berkeley and Miss Gertrude Hawk of Los Angeles accompanied Miss Marie Harris to her home in Fresno yesterday. The girls are members of Delta Gamma in the University of California. Several Delta Gamma girls whose homes are in Fresno are entertaining house parties, and a merry round of pleasures have been arranged.

College circles will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Davis of Altadena and Robert A. Waring of Sacramento. Miss Davis is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi. Waring is a law student at the University of California. The marriage will take place in the fall.

Mrs. E. O. Boughten returned to the United States yesterday, having been upland in Berkeley of Mrs. Fred B. Jones.

Reception: Winifred Hunt, Hope Southworth, Elsie Ahrens, J. W. Pauly, Margaret Witter, Ruth Slack, Muriel Stewart, Harry Frederick, L. R. McFie, E. C. Jones, E. R. McCullough.

Johnson to speak.

Governor Johnson will address the graduates of the University of California at the annual luncheon under the oaks near the Faculty club tomorrow noon, following the completion of the commencement day program.

Besides the graduating class several hundred alumni, with their wives and husbands, are expected to attend the affair, which will be in the nature of a reunion, distinct from the class gathering.

Faculty members of the university, as honorary members of the alumni association, will also attend.

Yesterday afternoon the several fraternities and sororities held open houses, but no attempt was made to hold the usual elaborate reception except at the Zeta Psi house, which was recently completed at a cost of $40,000. Here several hundred visitors were entertained at a reception.

Faculty members of the university, as honorary members of the alumni association, will also attend.

ATHLETES OF CITY'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS PLAN TRACK MEET

Many Pupils of Both Sexes Will Compete in Annual Field Day Events Scheduled to Open Tomorrow

The second annual athletic meet of the Oakland grammar schools will take place tomorrow at the old ball park, Fifty-seventh and Grove streets, the event commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning and lasting until late in the day. In all twenty-four grammar schools will be represented, including 2801 boys entered in the various races and contests, 2896 girls of the schools completed their events held in the several school yards during the last few weeks. They will not participate tomorrow. The youthful athletes will strive for the handsome silver TRIBUNE trophy, which was won last year by the Franklin school for the second time. Other prizes offered by the Oakland merchants will go to the schools carrying off second and third places.

The meet will be in charge of G. H. Pfund, physical director of the grammar schools in this city. He will be assisted by Frank Book of the Oakland High School as starter. The principal events will be the relay races and the 100-yard dashes. The usual manner of count will be used to determine the winner. For the lower grades shorter races have been scheduled.

The annual meet is the feature of the year's event in the athletics of the public schools and the result of careful training on the part of the physical director, assisted by the school principals. Since instituted two years ago it has grown in popularity until every scholar takes a personal pride in securing points for his or her school.

MANY TO SEE MEET.

Several thousand persons witnessed the meet last year and it is anticipated that a goodly number will take advantage of the event tomorrow. The grounds have been carefully laid out under the direction of the committee and each contest will be pulled off according to the rules governing the same.

Each of the schools will have its band or drum corps and a gala display of pennants mingled with the two dozen school yells by thousands of voices will add to the splendor of the occasion.

The following have been entered for the 100-yard dash with the school each represents designated:

W. Glanbrum, Claverton; R. Staachearn, Cole; Charles Bacheider, Elmhurst; E. Stangard, Emerson; H. Sanford, Franklin; P. Rhoda, Fruitvale, No. 1; R. Redley, Fruitvale, No. 2; K. Hunt, Fruitvale, No. 3; F. Murkowski, Lincoln; H. Pelletier, Lockwood; Charles Ziegenfuss, Longfellow; R. Garcia, Melrose; K. Kelley, Melrose Heights; G. Calden, Westmont; E. Johnson, Prescott; E. Con-in connection with the meet, the following bulletin has been issued from the office of the city superintendent of schools to the principals of the Oakland school department in which is set forth the directions deemed necessary for the successful management and carrying out of the meet:

Principals with volunteer teachers should accompany the boys to their respective places as shown in plan and sign placed in the field, and there remain till called upon.

Twenty-four schools will participate, divided in groups of eight, seven, and eight schools as per plan. The first group will be started promptly at 9:30 a. m.

Provide the last runner in each race with a pennant or flag, the relay team with a handkerchief to be passed from the first runner to the second, etc.

No spiked shoes allowed in any race.

PUPILS ENTER FREE.

Principals personally invite pupils in each class room. Their admission to the grounds will be free without tickets. Adults 25c.

All persons who are not assigned to positions in the meet must keep to the grounds and back of the railing to the bleachers. Make this plain to the pupils, please.

The timers will also serve as scorers. Count the number of performers before they start, figure out points on attendance and points on running on official blank, sign your names and hand to George Dicke, who will pass them to the secretary.

Substitutes shall stand on the finish line with handkerchief in hand held above the head and the running crabs on the line make a quick motion downward, which will start the next runner. Much caution must be taken in this to prevent the criticism that has already arisen from starting a second runner before his predecessor has crossed the finish line.

The assistant starters, the state teachers shall stand at the starting line and carefully control the runner, starting him not before the signal has been given by the substitute. Any disobedience to this rule or to rule eight, shall be reported to the referee by the timers, and the class disqualified.

AWARDING OF TROPHIES.

Trophies will again be awarded to the school obtaining the most number of points, and to the winning relay team. Medals will be awarded to the first, second and third place in the 100-yard dash. A trophy will also be awarded to the school which makes the second greatest aggregate number of points.

Principals of the Washington, Emerson, and Longfellow will please report, Tuesday, May 16, at 1 p. m., to the secretary, to assist in the running of the field in shape. Principals of the Durant, Grant, Westmont and Lafayette schools, will please report to the secretary at 10 o'clock, to act as gate keepers from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., and instruct them to pass no children without a ticket, and to retain these tickets and hand them to the secretary. Principals of the Prescott, Franklin and Garfield schools, will report their assistants to the ball grounds at 8 a. m. to keep children off the grounds with drinking water.

Principals of the Washington, Emerson, Longfellow, Durant, Bay, Dewey, Fruitvale One and Two, Lincoln, Lockwood will report to the secretary at 8 a. m. to the grounds to keep crowd off the field.

Individual Athletics.

As conducted in present days, individual athletics lead to the training of one particular part of the body to the detriment of other parts and are furthermore, confined to a selected few, the strongest ones of a school, the ones that need physical development. This reason individual competition will be reduced to a possible minimum, or so changed as to answer an all-round body development.

Team athletics will be brought into hygiene channels and the closest attention will be given to school athletic events which are intended to develop all pupils alike, the strong as well as the weak.

School athletics, as conducted in the Oakland public schools, aim at a whole-school development, physical development of all children, girls as well as boys.

School athletics meet hygienic, social and educational conditions. They are prescribed by adults who decide what is best for the children's well being. The required physical activities are kept within a reasonable limit that may be met by the majority, even by those who may be under-fed, by those who have insufficient sleep, or who live under unsanitary conditions.

School athletics therefore may be made compulsory to all and made a regular part of physical education.

School athletic events are taken outdoors. In all school athletics, "attendance" as well as "performance" is accounted for. Both are placed on the percentage basis for each event. The larger the smaller schools can compete with the larger ones with absolute equal chances of winning.

SCHOOL ATHLETIC EVENT.

The Public Schools Athletic League in its meeting of April 18, 1911, adopted the following rules and regulations for running as a school athletic event to be held at the annual field meet in May: The purpose of the league is to encourage training school children for running, to take into consideration the constitution and age of the pupils. No long distance running should be under any circumstances be indulged in by pupils of school age.

If properly directed and supervised, running will stimulate digestion, increase the circulation of the blood, promote the flow of the blood and lymph, and is especially designed to strengthen the respiratory system and heighten the endurance to a great degree.

All grammar grade pupils will run in their own grades, regardless to weight or size.

Boys 8th grades will run 40 Yds
Boys 7th grades will run 50 Yds
Boys 6th grades will run 60 Yds
Boys 5th grades will run 70 Yds
Boys 4th grades will run 80 Yds
Girls 8th grades will run 40 Yds
Girls 7th grades will run 50 Yds
Girls 6th grades will run 60 Yds
Girls 5th grades will run 70 Yds
Girls 4th grades will run 80 Yds

PRACTICE FOR ENDURANCE.

In training for short distances it is, to practice regular running as a daily exercise, increasing the length of time gradually from half minute to five minutes, without regard to speed whatever. Encourage pupils to practice on the yard, at home, or elsewhere by themselves. This will keep them busy building habits that are worth while, will insure endurance and increase the respiratory function. Train for endurance the first two weeks.

The last two weeks (preceding the field meet) should be devoted particularly to the training of the pupils in the order they are to run, at right angles to the running space, or in the same line as before starting. The last one must carry a flag. (School color.)

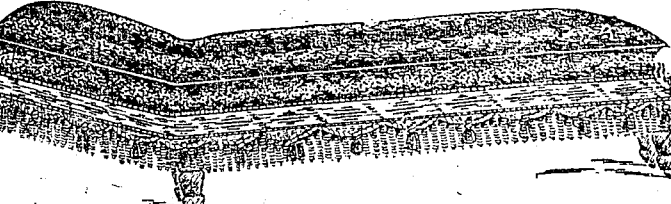

THE TIMER.

The duty of the timer is to take the time that elapses from the time when the first runner starts from the starting line to the time when the last one (with the flag) crosses the finish line. It is best taken by a stop watch. If an ordinary watch is used, start the runner when the second hand is over the 60 mark. The timer will command "Ready" when the second hand is over the 59 mark and "Go" when it is over the 60 mark. He must stand at the finish line.

The starter also stands at the finish line, with a handkerchief or flag in his right hand. His duty is to start each of the pupils as follows: At the command "Go" he will lower his handkerchief in a very quick motion, this being the signal for No. 1 to start his run and for No. 2 to step up to the starting line. As pupil No. 1 crosses the finish line (under no circumstances sooner or later) No. 2 is signalled to start in the same manner. In like manner each runner is started, and as the last runner, carrying the flag, crosses the finish line, the watch is stopped or the time taken. The average speed is taken by dividing the elapsed time by the number of pupils that ran through the event.

The tally keeper also stands at the finish line. His duty is to count off all runners before starting and hand a flag to the last one. He will then go to the finish line and each runner as he crosses the finish line, thus rectifying the number of runners.

The start must also be practised. This is one of the most important points in training for running. Much time was lost at our first year meet as a year by all schools. The position taken for the start must be alike for boys as well as girls. The left foot should be placed on the scratch line, left knee well bent; the right foot placed backward and the body leaning forward.

It is well also to emphasize the importance of the "finish" as hundreds of pupils a year ago lessened their speed long before they reached the finish line. The physical director will send to each school a sufficient number of training blanks on which will be found a scale of points for average speeds for all four distances.

OSTUMES IN SCHOOL EVENTS.

Boys may take off coat and vest and use ordinary gymnasium shoes. Spiked shoes not allowed under penalty of being debarred from all events.

The girls will practice and make final scores on their own school grounds. Each principal will please have his classes of girls ready to make the final record between the 8th and 12th of May. Any principal wishing the assistance of the physical director for the purpose of taking a trial score before the 8th, or final score between the 8th and 12th of May may ring up Mr. Pfund, Oakland 5883. Be sure to make early arrangements.

Principals must have the best scores taken between the 8th and 12th of May. These scores of girls' events must be sent in with the boys' entry blank by May 12th.

TROPHIES.

The trophies awarded to the schools May 12th will be taken to the classes of the schools attaining the greatest number of points: THE TRIBUNE trophy will be awarded to the school making the greatest aggregate number of points in athletic events.

A second trophy will be awarded to the school making the second greatest aggregate number of points.

Trophies will be awarded at the field meet. Medals will be awarded to winners of 100 yard dash and the relay.

SAVED CHILD FROM DEATH.

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had coughed all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, croup and sore lungs, it's the most infallible remedy that's made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros.

CALIFORNIA STORK PARTIAL TO BOYS

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—According to data gathered by Statistician Leslie of the State Board of Health the number of boy babies born in 1910 outnumbered the girls by 1370.

Of 32,138 children born in California in 1910, 16,754 or 52.1 per cent were boys and 15,384 or 47.9 per cent were girls. The proportion of boy babies in 1910 was a little less than the proportion in 1909.

The percentage of males is much greater among non-caucasians. Of 1245 non-caucasian infants in 1910 no less than 58 per cent were male, but among the 30,893 white babies only 51.9 per cent were boys.

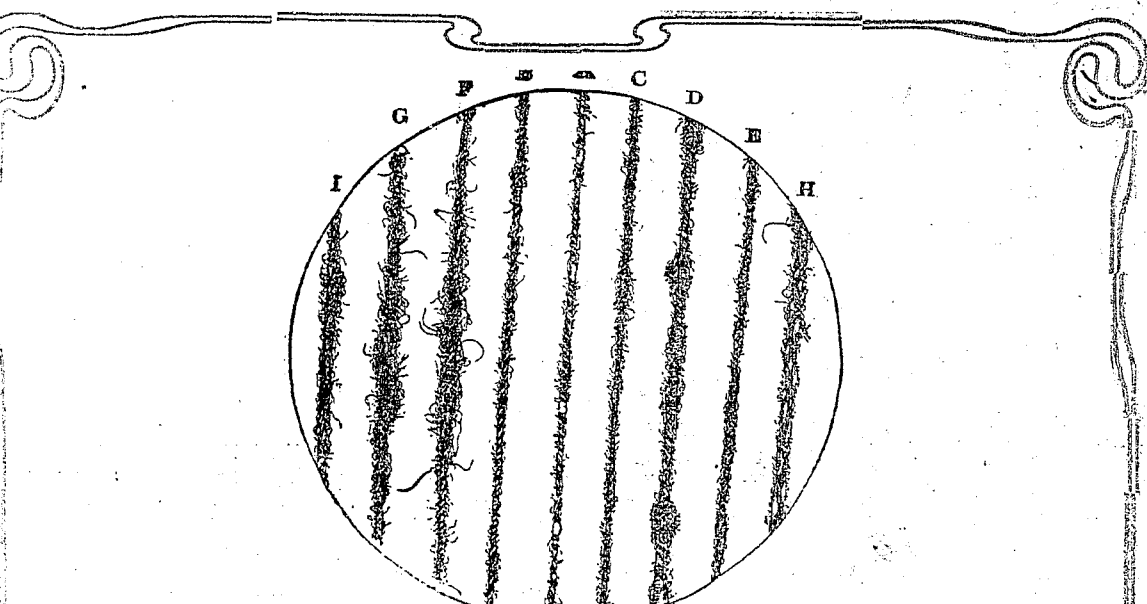

Mrs. J. S. Starnes, Hickory, N. C., speaks to those who have a similar trouble. "I have been bothered a great deal with throat and lung trouble, and find Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives me immediate satisfaction and relief." Take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds and hoarseness, for children and for grown people. Accept no substitutes. Wishart's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

ROSEN NOT TO HEAD RUSSIAN MINISTRY

ST. PETERSBURG, May 16.—It was officially denied at the foreign office yesterday that the appointment of Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador at Washington, to head the ministry in succession to Sergius Sazonoff, who is ill, was contemplated. Nothing is stated concerning the rumor that the baron, who is now here, will be appointed temporary director of the foreign office.

SON OF MILLIONAIRE SHIPS AS SEAMAN

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 16.—The mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance from Portland of George Dryer, son of a millionaire banker and real estate man of New York, was cleared today when Dryer made known his identity to the officers of the steamship Edith, on which he is working his way on a tour of Alaska.

YOU WEAR THESE

IN OUR LAST educational ad. we told you something about the difference between woollens and worsteds—between the genuine articles and the base imitations.

IN THIS we want to show you how fancy woollens are made—for it is the fancy woollens that catch your eye—and other eyes also.

LOOK AT the illustration. A-B-C-D-E. They are KNICKERBOCKER TWISTS. Not that they are used on knickerbockers only—not a bit of it. They are used to build those suits of distinction that make and mark a difference—"ROOS-MADE" suits and "ROOS-MADE" overcoats.

- A—Is in black and white.
- B—Is in two tones of delicate grays.
- C—Is in tones of gray and brown.
- D—Is a gray thread with a blue spot.
- E—Is a blue with a fine red spot.

LOOK AGAIN at the illustration! F-G-H-I. They are the finest wool hairlines in what are technically called CLOUDED TWISTS. These are very beautiful threads, specially designed and specially spun for the very handsome hairline woollens we are showing in our ENGLISH cut suits and HAND-EDGED clothing.

WE DEVOTE months of care and attention to the getting out of the genuine woollens and worsteds used in our "ROOS-MADE" suits and overcoats, but our prices are no higher, in fact frequently less. GOOD REASONS WHY you should
